* In 2006, the NFL implemented a "flexible scheduling" procedure for Sunday Night Football. Flexible scheduling ensured quality matchups on Sunday night in all weeks and gave surprise teams a chance to play their way onto primetime. For the 2025 season, flexible scheduling will be expanded to include Monday Night Football, as well as Thursday Night Football on a trial basis. Please note that the NFL is continuously reviewing its scheduling procedures to ensure exciting and meaningful games are available for viewing by the largest number of fans and so further changes to flexible scheduling could be implemented in the future.

* Flexible scheduling is in effect during the following windows (the "Flex Scheduling Windows"):

- ▶ Sunday afternoon games may also be moved between 1:00 p.m. and 4:05 p.m. or 4:25 p.m. ET.
- ▶ For Sunday Night Football, it may be used up to twice between Weeks 5-10, and at the NFL's discretion during Weeks 11-17;
- ▶ For Monday Night Football, it may be used at the NFL's discretion in Weeks 12-17;
- ▶ For Thursday Night Football, it may be used up to twice between Weeks 14-16.

* During the Flex Scheduling Windows, the games initially scheduled for Sunday Night Football (on NBC), Monday Night Football (ESPN or ABC), and Thursday Night Football (Amazon Prime Video) are tentatively scheduled and subject to change. Only Sunday afternoon games (or those listed as TBD) are eligible to be moved to Sunday night, Monday night, or Thursday night, in which case the initially scheduled Sunday, Monday, or Thursday night game would be moved to Sunday afternoon. Sunday afternoon games may also be moved between 1:00 p.m. and 4:05 p.m. or 4:25 p.m. ET.

* During the Flex Scheduling Windows, only Sunday afternoon or TBD games are subject to being moved into the Sunday night, Monday, or Thursday night window. The game that has been tentatively scheduled for Sunday Night Football, Monday Night Football, or Thursday Night Football during the Flex Scheduling Windows will generally be listed at 8:20 p.m. ET, 8:15 p.m. ET, and 8:15 p.m. ET, respectively. The majority of games on Sundays will typically be listed at 1:00 p.m. ET during the Flex Scheduling Windows except for games played in Pacific or Mountain time zones, which will be listed at 4:05 or 4:25 p.m. ET. For Sunday Night Football in Weeks 5-13 and for Monday Night Football in Weeks 12-17, the NFL will decide (after consultation with CBS, FOX, NBC, and ESPN) and announce no later than 12 days in advance of the game, which game will be played on Sunday night and which game will be played on Monday night. For Sunday Night Football in Weeks 14-17, the flexible scheduling decision will generally be made no later than six days prior to the game. For Thursday Night Football in Weeks 14-16, the flexible scheduling decision will be made no later than 21 days prior to the game.

# In Weeks 16 and 17, two of four designated matchups will be played on Saturday with the remainder to be determined. Specific dates and start times for the designated Week 17 matchups will be determined and announced at a later date during the season.

^ As in prior seasons, for Week 18, the final weekend of the season, the scheduling of the Saturday, Sunday afternoon, and the Sunday night games is not assigned. The schedule for Week 18 will be announced no later than six days prior to that week's Saturday game (Jan. 9, 2027).

2026 POSTSEASON SCHEDULE & SITE PRIORITIES

Wild Card Weekend

Site Priorities

The No. 1 seed in each conference will receive the only bye. Using NFL tie-breaking procedures, the remaining division champions in each conference will be seeded 2, 3 and 4, followed by the next three teams per conference seeded 5, 6 and 7. Wild Card games will feature the 2 seed hosting the 7 seed, the 3 seed hosting the 6 seed and the 4 seed hosting the 5 seed. There are no restrictions on intra-division games.

Beginning Saturday, Jan. 16, 2027

Divisional Playoff Games

Site Priorities

In each conference, the division champion with the highest won-lost-tied percentage during the regular season will play host to the lowest-seeded Wild Card survivor. The other two Wild Card winners play in the other game, with the team with the higher seed playing host. There are no restrictions on intra-division games.

All times ET and PM unless otherwise noted; *The NFL again will utilize “flexible scheduling” in 2026

FUTURE OPPONENTS

Under the NFL scheduling formula, every team plays 17 games as follows:

- Home and away against its three division opponents (six games).
- The four teams from another division within its conference on a rotating, three-year cycle (four games).
- The four teams from a division in the other conference on a rotating, four-year cycle (four games).
- Two intraconference opponents based on the prior year's standings (two games). These games match a first-place team against the first-place teams in the two same-conference divisions the team is not scheduled to play that season. The second-place, third-place and fourth-place teams in a conference are matched in the same way each year.
- One interconference opponent based on the prior year's standings on a rotating four-year cycle (one game). These games match a first-place team from one division against a first-place team in an opposite-conference division that the team is not scheduled to play that season. The second-place, third-place and fourth-place teams in each division are matched in the same way each year. The home conference for this game will rotate.

IMPORTANT DATES, 2026-27

JULY 2026

July 15 — At 4:00 p.m., New York time, deadline for any club that designated a Franchise Player to sign such player to a multi-year contract or extension. After this date, the player may sign only a one-year contract with his prior club for the 2026 season, and such contract cannot be extended until after the club's last regular season game.

Mid-July — Clubs are permitted to open preseason training camp for rookies (defined as a player who has never signed an NFL player contract with a club in a prior league year) beginning seven days prior to the club's mandatory reporting date for veteran players.

Clubs may require first-year players (defined as a player who signed an NFL player contract with any club in a prior league year, but who does not have a pension-credited season) to report on the designated reporting date for all rookies, or at any time thereafter, including, but not limited to, the designated reporting date for veteran quarterbacks and injured players, or the designated reporting date for all other veteran players.

Veteran quarterbacks and "injured players" (as defined in CBA Article 21, Section 6) may be required to report to the club's preseason training camp no earlier than five days immediately prior to the mandatory reporting date for all other veteran players, provided the club has already opened (or simultaneously opens) its official preseason training camp for all rookies.

The earliest mandatory reporting date for veteran players (as defined in CBA Article 23, Section 5) are:

a. For clubs whose first regular season game is on a Thursday or a Sunday, all veteran players other than quarterbacks and injured players are required to report to the club's official preseason training camp 47 days (including one day for physical examinations, meetings, classroom instruction, running, and conditioning) prior to such regular season game.

b. For clubs whose first regular season game is on a Monday, all veteran players other than quarterbacks and injured players are required to report to the club's official preseason training camp 48 days (including one day for physical examinations, meetings, classroom instruction, running, and conditioning) prior to such regular season game.

c. Notwithstanding Subsections (a) and (b) above, for clubs whose first preseason game is the Canton Hall of Fame Game, no veteran player other than quarterbacks and injured players will be required to report to such Club's official preseason training camp earlier than 15 days (including one day for physical examinations, meetings, classroom instruction, running and conditioning) prior to such preseason game.

July 22 — At 4:00 p.m., New York time, signing period ends for Transition Players with outstanding tenders. After this date and until 4:00 p.m., New York time, on the Tuesday following the 10th weekend of the regular season, prior club has exclusive negotiating rights.

At 4:00 p.m., New York time, on July 22 (or the first scheduled day of the first NFL training camp, whichever is later) signing period ends for unrestricted free agents to whom a "UFA Tender" was made by prior club. After this date and until 4:00 p.m., New York time, on the Tuesday following the 10th weekend of the regular season, prior club has exclusive negotiating rights.

AUGUST 2026

Aug. 5 — 2026 Pro Football Hall of Fame Game presented by Novartis, Carolina Panthers vs. Arizona Cardinals, Canton, Ohio.

TIE-BREAKING PROCEDURES

The following procedures will be used to break standings ties for postseason playoffs and to determine regular-season schedules.
Note: Tie games count as one-half win and one-half loss for both clubs.

TO BREAK A TIE WITHIN A DIVISION

If, at the end of the regular season, two or more clubs in the same division finish with the best won-lost-tied percentage, the following steps will be taken until a champion is determined:

TWO CLUBS

1. Head-to-head (best won-lost-tied percentage in games between the clubs).
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the division.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
5. Strength of victory in all games.
6. Strength of schedule in all games.
7. Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed in all games.
8. Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed in all games.
9. Best net points in common games.
10. Best net points in all games.
11. Best net touchdowns in all games.
12. Coin toss.

THREE-OR-MORE CLUBS

(Note: If two clubs remain tied after one-or-more clubs are eliminated during any step, tiebreaker restarts at Step 1 of two-club format. If three clubs remain tied after a fourth club is eliminated during any step, tiebreaker restarts at Step 1 of three-club format.)

1. Head-to-head (best won-lost-tied percentage in games among the clubs).
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the division.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
5. Strength of victory in all games.
6. Strength of schedule in all games.
7. Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed in all games.
8. Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed in all games.
9. Best net points in common games.
10. Best net points in all games.
11. Best net touchdowns in all games.
12. Coin toss.

TO BREAK A TIE FOR THE WILD CARD TEAM

If necessary to break ties to determine the three Wild Card clubs from each conference, the following steps will be taken:

A. If all the tied clubs are from the same division, apply division tiebreaker.

B. If the tied clubs are from different divisions, apply the following steps:

TWO CLUBS

1. Head-to-head, if applicable.
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, minimum of four.
4. Strength of victory in all games.
5. Strength of schedule in all games.
6. Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed in all games.
7. Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed in all games.
8. Best net points in conference games.
9. Best net points in all games.
10. Best net touchdowns in all games.
11. Coin toss.

THREE-OR-MORE CLUBS

(Note: If two clubs remain tied after one-or-more clubs are eliminated during any step, tiebreaker restarts at Step 1 of two-club format. If three clubs remain tied after a fourth club is eliminated during any step, tiebreaker restarts at Step 2 of three-club format.)

1. Apply division tiebreaker to eliminate all but highest-ranked club in each division prior to proceeding to Step 2. The original seeding within a division upon application of the division tiebreaker remains the same for all subsequent applications of the procedure that are necessary to identify the two Wild Card participants.
2. Head-to-head sweep (apply only if one has defeated each of the others, or one club has lost to each of the others).
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, minimum of four.
5. Strength of victory in all games.
6. Strength of schedule in all games.
7. Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed in all games.
8. Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed in all games.

9. Best net points in conference games.

10. Best net points in all games.

11. Best net touchdowns in all games.

12. Coin toss.

When the first Wild Card team has been identified, the procedure is repeated to name the second and third Wild Card (i.e., eliminate all but the highest-ranked club in each division prior to proceeding to Step 2). In situations in which three teams from the same division are involved in the procedure, the original seeding of the teams remains the same for subsequent applications of the tiebreaker if the top-ranked team in that division qualifies for a Wild Card berth.

OTHER TIE-BREAKING PROCEDURES

1. Only one club advances to the playoffs in any tie-breaking step. Remaining tied clubs revert to the first step of the applicable division or Wild Card tiebreakers. As an example, if two clubs remain tied in any tiebreaker step after all other clubs have been eliminated, the procedure reverts to Step 1 of the two-club format to determine the winner. When one club wins the tiebreaker, all other clubs revert to Step 1 of the applicable two-club or three-club format.

2. In comparing records against common opponents among tied teams, the best won-lost-tied percentage is the deciding factor since teams may have played an unequal number of games.

3. To determine home-field priority among division winners, apply Wild Card tiebreakers.

4. To determine home-field priority for Wild Card qualifiers, apply division tiebreakers (if teams are from the same division) or Wild Card tiebreakers (if teams are from different divisions).

5. To determine the best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed, add a team's position in the two categories, and the lowest score wins. For example, if Team A is first in points scored and second in points allowed, its combined ranking is "3." If Team B is third in points scored and first in points allowed, its combined ranking is "4." Team A then wins the tiebreaker. If two teams are tied for a position, both teams are awarded the ranking as if they held it solely. For example, if Team A and Team B are tied for first in points scored, each team is assigned a ranking of "1" in that category, and if Team C is third, its ranking will still be "3."

TIE-BREAKING PROCEDURE FOR SELECTION MEETING

1. Clubs not participating in the playoffs shall select in the first through 18th positions in reverse-standings order.

2. Clubs participating in the playoffs shall select according to the following procedures:

(A) The losers of the Wild Card games shall select in the 19th through 24th positions based on won-loss-tied percentage in reverse-standings order.

(B) The losers of the Divisional playoff games shall select in the 25th through 28th positions based on won-loss-tied percentage in reverse-standings order.

(C) The losers of the Conference Championship Games shall select 29th and 30th based on won-loss-tied percentage in reverse-standings order.

(D) The winner of the Super Bowl game shall select last and the Super Bowl loser will select next-to-last.

3. If ties exist in any grouping, such ties shall be broken by figuring the aggregate won-lost-tied percentage of each involved club's regular-season opponents and awarding preferential selection order to the club that faced the schedule of teams with the lowest aggregate won-lost-tied percentage.

4. If ties still exist, apply the Divisional, Conference or Interconference tie-breaking methods, whichever is applicable.

(A) For Divisional or Conference ties, use the procedures on the previous page.

(B) For Interconference ties, use the following procedures:

(i) Ties involving TWO teams from different conferences will be broken by (a) head-to-head meeting; (b) best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, minimum of four, (c) strength of victory in all games, (d) best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed in all games, (e) best net points in all games, (f) best net touchdowns in all games, and finally (g) coin toss.

(ii) Ties involving THREE-OR-MORE clubs from different conferences will be broken by applying (a) divisional tiebreakers to determine the lowest-ranked team in a division, (b) conference tiebreakers to determine the lowest-ranked team within a conference, and (c) interconference tiesbreakers to determine the lowest-ranked team in the league. The process will be repeated until the draft order has been established.

After the selection order for the first round of the draft has been determined, clubs originally involved in two-club ties will alternate positions from round to round. In the cases of ties that originally involved three-or-more clubs, the club at the top of a tied segment in a given round will move to the bottom of the segment for the next round, while all other clubs in the segment move up one place. This rotation will continue throughout the draft.

INSTANT REPLAY

The NFL uses a system of Instant Replay Review to aid officiating. The following procedures will be used:

Coach Challenges: In each game, a team will be permitted two challenges that will initiate Instant Replay reviews. The Head Coach can initiate a challenge by throwing a red flag onto the field of play before the next legal snap or kick. Each challenge requires an available team timeout. A team that is out of timeouts, or has used all its available challenges, may not attempt to initiate a challenge. If a challenge is unsuccessful, the team will be charged a timeout. If a team is successful on one of its challenges, it is allowed a third challenge, but a fourth challenge will not be permitted.

The Head Coach may challenge on-field rulings identified in the Reviewable Plays section below, except for those plays that only the Replay Official can challenge. If a team initiates a challenge when it is not permitted to do so, it will be charged a timeout. The penalty for initiating a challenge when a team has exhausted its timeouts is a loss of 15 yards.

Replay Official Request for Review: Only the Replay Official or the Senior Vice President of Officiating or his or her designee may challenge a play that 1) begins after the two-minute warning of each half, 2) happens throughout any overtime period, 3) happens when points are scored by either team, 4) is a Try attempt (successful or unsuccessful), or 5) in which the final on-field ruling includes:

- An interception by an opponent;
- A fumble or backward pass recovered by an opponent or that goes out of bounds through the opponent's end zone;
- A possession by the kicking team at the end of any free kick or scrimmage kick down;
- A play in which the offense failed to reach the line to gain on fourth down; or
- A disqualification of a player.

Such plays can be challenged only by the Replay Official or the Senior Vice President of Officiating or his or her designee, including when a foul is committed on the play that, if accepted, would negate the on-field ruling.

There is no limit to the number of Replay Reviews that may be initiated by the Replay Official. The Replay Official may only challenge a play until the next legal snap or kick.

Replay Reviews: All Replay Reviews will be conducted by the Senior Vice President of Officiating or his or her designee. Reviews are conducted in consultation with the Replay Official and the Referee, who will have access to a field-level video monitor. An on-field ruling will be changed only when the Senior Vice President of Officiating or his or her designee determines that clear and obvious video evidence warrants a change.

All reviewable aspects of the play may be examined and are subject to reversal, even if not identified in a coach's challenge or if not the specific reason for a Replay Official's request for review.

Reviewable Plays: The Replay System will cover the following play situations:

A. Plays involving possession.
B. Plays involving touching of either the ball or the ground.
C. Plays governed by the goal line.
D. Plays governed by the boundary lines.
E. Plays governed by the line of scrimmage.
F. Plays governed by the line to gain.
G. Number of players on the field, even when a foul is not called.
H. Game administration:
    a. Penalty enforcement.
    b. Proper down.
    c. Spot of a foul.
    d. Status of the game clock.
I. Disqualification of a player for football and non-football acts.
J. Other reviewable plays:
    a. Direction of a pass.
    b. Illegal forward pass.
    c. Field goal or Try attempt.
    d. Illegal forward handoff.
    e. Ball touching a foreign object.

When the on-field ruling results in a dead ball (e.g., score, down by contact, incomplete pass, etc.), and following replay review, it is determined that possession was lost before the ball should have been ruled dead, possession can be awarded to a player who clearly recovers a loose ball in the immediate continuing action. When the on-field ruling is an incomplete pass and there is no clear recovery, the ball will be awarded to the team last in possession at the spot where it lost possession. A loose ball that touches out of bounds is deemed a clear recovery by the player who last possessed the ball. A preliminary ruling by on-field officials of which team recovered the ball can also constitute a clear recovery.

When a ruling is changed in replay, the game clock will be reset to the time when the ball should have been declared dead and the clock status is determined by rule. The game clock is not reset if the on-field ruling is not changed in replay.

When a changed ruling after the two-minute warning results in a game clock that would start before the snap, the clock is reset to the time when the play should have ended, and the clock will run for 10 seconds from the reset time. If less than 10 seconds remain in the half or the game, the half or the game is over. Either team may use a team timeout to avoid the 10-second runoff.

INSTANT REPLAY HISTORY

From 1986-91, a limited system of Instant Replay was used on a year-by-year basis. Replay also was experimented with during the 1996 and 1998 preseasons.

For the 1999 season, the NFL introduced a system of Referee Replay Review to aid officiating. That system was extended on a one-year basis for the 2000 season and then approved for the next three years through 2003. The system was extended on a five-year basis in March 2004 and was later installed permanently in March 2007.

Following are the results of the different systems:

WAIVER & PERSONNEL INFORMATION

WAIVERS

The waiver system is a procedure by which player contracts or NFL rights to players are made available by a club to other clubs in the league. During the procedure, the 31 other clubs either file claims to obtain the players or waive the opportunity to do so—thus the term "waiver." Claiming clubs are assigned players on a priority based on the inverse of won-and-lost standing. With certain exceptions, the claiming period is 24 hours from the first business day after the Super Bowl through the conclusion of the regular season. If a player passes through waivers unclaimed, he becomes a free agent. All waivers are no recall and no withdrawal. Under the Collective Bargaining Agreement, from the beginning of the waiver system each year through the trading deadline, any veteran who has acquired four years of pension credit is not subject to the waiver system if the club desires to release him. After the trading deadline, such players are subject to the waiver system.

ACTIVE/INACTIVE LIST

The Active/Inactive List is the principal status for players participating for a club. It consists of all players under contract who are eligible for preseason, regular-season and postseason games. Clubs are permitted to open training camp with no more than 90 players under contract and thereafter must meet a mandatory roster reduction prior to the season-opener. Clubs will be permitted an Active List of 47 players (or 48 players if teams carry eight offensive linemen) and an Inactive List of five or six players to complete their 53-player rosters for each regular-season and postseason game. A club that does not carry three quarterbacks on its 47/48-player Active List is permitted to designate one quarterback from its Inactive List as its emergency Third Quarterback. A Third Quarterback can be activated during a game if the club's first two quarterbacks are disqualified, injured or undergoing a medical examination. In addition, each club is permitted to elevate two players from its Practice Squad each week to increase its roster to 54 or 55 players.

PRACTICE SQUAD

Clubs are permitted to establish Practice Squads of up to 16 players who are eligible to participate in practice, but these players remain free agents and are eligible to sign with any other team. An additional 17th player may be signed if the player qualifies as an International Player.

PRESEASON ROSTER DATES, 2026

Aug. 30 ..... Roster reduction to 53 players
Aug. 31 ..... Teams establish practice squads

In addition to the squad limits described above, the overall roster limit of 90 players remains in effect throughout the regular season and postseason. The overall limit is applicable to players on a team's Active, Inactive and certain exempt lists, players on the Practice Squad, and players on the Reserve List as Injured, Physically Unable to Perform, Non-Football Illness/Injury, and Suspended by Club.

RESERVE LIST

The Reserve List is a status for players who, for reasons of injury, retirement, military service, or other circumstances, are not immediately available for participation with a club. Except for eight players who must be Designated for Return, players on Reserve/Injured are not eligible to practice or return to the Active/Inactive List in the same season that they are placed on Reserve. Players in the category of Reserve/Retired, Reserve/Did Not Report or Reserve/Exclusive Rights, and players who were placed in the category of Reserve/Left Squad in a previous season, may not be reinstated after a club's Week 13 game. No reinstatement may occur in the last five weeks of the regular season through the postseason.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Jesse Minter, Head Coach

Pro Career: Jesse Minter was named the fourth head coach in franchise history on Jan. 22, 2026, returning to the organization where he previously served on the defensive staff from 2017-20. Minter arrived in Baltimore after two seasons (2024-25) as defensive coordinator of the Los Angeles Chargers, where his units ranked among the NFL's best in several key categories. In 2025, LAC ranked No. 1 in defensive passer rating (75.0), No. 4 in red zone TD efficiency (46.9%) and No. 5 in each total defense (285.2 ypg), pass defense (179.9 ypg) and third-down percentage (35.2%). LAC also allowed 20.0 points per game, produced 45 sacks and forced 23 turnovers, while S Derwin James Jr. and OLB Tuli Tuipulotu earned Pro Bowl honors. In Minter's first season (2024), the Chargers led the NFL in scoring defense (17.7 ppg), ranked fifth on third down (35.7%) and seventh against the pass (206.9 ypg), with James Jr., OLB Joey Bosa and OLB Khalil Mack earning Pro Bowl selections. Prior to joining Los Angeles, Minter spent two seasons (2022-23) as Michigan's defensive coordinator, helping lead the Wolverines to the 2023 CFP National Championship. That season, Michigan led the nation in total defense (247.0 ypg) and scoring defense (10.4 ppg), allowing just 17 touchdowns over 15 games. Minter also served as interim head coach for Michigan's 2023 season opener, earning his first career head coaching victory in a win over East Carolina. Minter was Vanderbilt's defensive coordinator/safeties coach in 2021 after spending four seasons (2017-20) with the Ravens, helping Baltimore rank second in the NFL in total defense (312.1 ypg) during that span. The Ravens reached the postseason three times and won back-to-back AFC North titles in 2018-19, including a 2019 campaign in which Baltimore finished 14-2 and ranked third in scoring defense (17.6 ppg) and fourth in total defense (300.6 ypg). Career record: 0-0.

Background: Minter spent time early in his career coaching at Georgia State (2013-16), Indiana State (2009-12), University of Cincinnati (2007-08) and Notre Dame (2006). He graduated with a bachelor's degree in liberal studies from the College of Mount Saint Joseph in Delhi, Ohio, where he also played wide receiver for the Lions' football team, which posted a school-record 30-10 mark during his four years (2002-05), including back-to-back conference titles and Division III playoff appearances.

Personal: Born in Little Rock, Ark., on May 9, 1983, Minter and his wife, Rachelle, have three children: Millie, Monte and Mac. His father is former University of Cincinnati head football coach Rick Minter, who also coached linebackers for the Philadelphia Eagles (2013-15). Jesse and Rick coached together at the Chargers and Georgia State, with the elder Minter serving as the Panthers' defensive line coach while his son was defensive coordinator. Minter prepped at Yorktown High School in Yorktown, Ind., where he played wide receiver.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

Joe Brady, Head Coach

Pro Career: Brady was named Buffalo's 21st head coach on January 27, 2026. He enters his first season as Buffalo's head coach and ninth season in the NFL ranks. Brady was named Buffalo's head coach after serving as the offensive coordinator from 2024-25, as well as interim offensive coordinator for the final nine games of the 2023 season (including playoffs). In 2025, he oversaw an offense that ranked top five in several statistical categories – rushing yards per game (159.6 – 1st), time of possession (33:08 – 1st), red zone efficiency (66.2% - 3rd), points per game (28.3 – 4th), total yards per game (376.3 – 4th) and third down conversion rate (44.8% - 4th). In 2024, Brady's offense became the first in NFL history to score at least 30 rushing and 30 receiving touchdowns in a single season. The Bills averaged 30.9 points per game (best in AFC) and allowed a league-best 14 sacks and QB Josh Allen was named NFL MVP. Brady was originally hired by the Bills in 2022 and was the quarterbacks coach from 2022-23. Before coming to Buffalo, Brady coached with the Carolina Panthers as their offensive coordinator from 2020-21. His first job in the NFL was with the New Orleans Saints as an offensive assistant from 2017-18.

Background: A two-time academic all-conference selection at wide receiver for William & Mary from 2009-12, Brady graduated in 2013 with degrees in process management and consulting along with kinesiology and health sciences. He earned his master's degree from Penn State in educational leadership in 2018. Brady coached collegiately at William & Mary (2013-14), Penn State (2015-16) and LSU (2019).

Personal: Born Sept. 23, 1989. A native of Pembroke Pines, Fla. He and his wife, Lauren, have a son named Jordan and a daughter named Logan.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform

Zac Taylor, Head Coach

Pro Career: Zac Taylor is in his eighth season as head coach of the Cincinnati Bengals, after being named the 10th head coach in team history on Feb. 4, 2019. In 2025, his seventh season as head coach, Taylor once again orchestrated one of the NFL's top offenses, as the Bengals ranked sixth in passing (235.6 net yards per game), fifth in third-down efficiency (43.4 percent) and second in red zone TD percentage (66.7). In 2024, he guided Cincinnati to its fourth consecutive winning season as the team posted a 9-8 record. After falling to 4-8 in early December, Taylor rallied the Bengals to five straight wins to close out the regular season, with two of those victories coming on the road in prime time. Under Taylor, Cincinnati led the league in passing offense (272.9 yards) and ranked sixth in scoring (27.8 points per game). Taylor led the Bengals to back-to-back AFC North titles in 2021 and 2022, marking the first time in team history Cincinnati won its division in consecutive years. In 2021, the Bengals won the AFC for the first time since 1988 and advanced to Super Bowl LVI. They followed up with another AFC Championship appearance following the 2022 season, improving Taylor's postseason record to 5-2. Taylor came to Cincinnati after two seasons with the L.A. Rams, where he served as assistant wide receivers coach in 2017 and quarterbacks coach in '18. He broke into NFL coaching with Miami as assistant quarterbacks coach in 2012, then was elevated to quarterbacks coach for the Dolphins from 2013-15. Career record (including postseason): 57-65-1.

Background: Taylor played QB at Wake Forest (2002-03), Butler County (Kan.) C.C. (2004) and Nebraska (2005-06). In 2006, he was named Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year and led the Cornhuskers to an appearance in the Big 12 Championship Game and a berth in the Cotton Bowl. He was inducted into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 2017. He joined the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as a college free agent in 2007, but was waived prior to the start of training camp. He then spent the 2007 season with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League (did not play). He had two stints in the college coaching ranks, serving on staff at Texas A&M (2008-11) and Cincinnati (2016).

Personal: Taylor was born on May 10, 1983, in Norman, Okla. He graduated from Nebraska in 2006 with a degree in communication studies. He and his wife, Sarah, have four children — Brooks, Luke, Emma Claire and Milly. Sarah Taylor is the daughter of former Green Bay Packers and Texas A&M head coach Mike Sherman. Taylor's father, Sherwood, was a defensive back and captain at Oklahoma (1976-79), then later served as an assistant coach at Oklahoma and Kansas State. Taylor's brother, Press, played QB at Marshall and currently is the offensive coordinator for the Chicago Bears.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Todd Monken, Head Coach
Pro Career: Todd Monken was hired as the Cleveland Browns 18th full time head coach on Jan. 28, 2026, by Managing and Principal Partners Dee and Jimmy Haslam. Monken brings 34 years of coaching experience, including 26 seasons at the collegiate level and eight in the NFL. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Grand Valley State (1989–90) and Notre Dame (1991–92). He then spent seven seasons at Eastern Michigan, tutoring the defensive backs and wide receivers (1993–97) before being elevated to offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach (1998–99). He went on to coach running backs (2000) and wide receivers (2001) at Louisiana Tech and then served as passing game coordinator and wide receivers coach at Oklahoma State from 2002–04. Monken developed future first-round receivers Dwayne Bowe and Buster Davis as passing game coordinator and wide receivers coach at Louisiana State (2005–06). Monken broke into the NFL with the Jacksonville Jaguars, spending four seasons (2007–10) as their wide receivers coach, before returning to college as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Oklahoma State from 2011-12. His first head-coaching opportunity came after taking over a winless Southern Mississippi program in 2013 and by the end of his campaign, posted a 9-5 record, won the Conference USA West and earned an appearance in the Heart of Dallas Bowl. He led the Golden Eagles program from 2013-15. Monken made a pivot back to the NFL in 2016 as offensive coordinator for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (2016-18), also coaching wide receivers his first two seasons (2016-17). Throughout his tenure, his offenses redefined Tampa Bay's record book, as they led the NFL in passing yards (14,130) during that span. In 2019, Monken served as offensive coordinator for the Browns, guiding an offense that featured two receivers WRs Jarvis Landry, Odell Beckham Jr, and running back RB Nick Chubb all eclipse 1,000 scrimmage yards in a season for the first time in franchise history. He then spent three seasons (2020–22) as Georgia's offensive coordinator, helping the Bulldogs capture back-to-back College Football Playoff National Championships. Before his first NFL head coaching opportunity, Monken led the Baltimore Ravens' offense from 2023–25. Under his guidance, the Ravens ranked near the top of the league in multiple categories, including rushing yards (1st, 166.9 per game), total yards (2nd, 375.6 per game), and points (3rd, 27.9 per game). Career record: 0-0.

Background: Monken was a three-year letter winner quarterback for Knox College (1986-1988) and earned a bachelor's degree in economics and a master's degree in education leadership from Grand Valley State.

Personal: Born February 5, 1966, Monken is a native of Wheaton, Ill. He and his wife, Terri, have one son, Travis.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Sean Payton, Head Coach
Pro Career: Sean Payton enters his fourth season with the Denver Broncos after being named the 20th head coach in franchise history on Feb. 3, 2023. In his first three seasons as head coach, the Broncos have accumulated a 32-19 regular-season record, two playoff berths (2024-25), one AFC West title (2025) and one AFC Championship Game appearance (2025). In his third season at the helm in 2025, he led the Broncos to a 14-3 record, tying the franchise mark for most wins in a season while helping the club to its first AFC West title and AFC Championship Game appearance since 2015. A 37-year coaching veteran with 27 seasons of NFL experience, Payton joined the Broncos after spending 15 years as New Orleans' head coach (2006-11, '13-21). While with the Saints, Payton accumulated a regular-season record of 152- 89-0 and a 9-8 record in the playoffs. He also led the franchise to its first Super Bowl championship (Super Bowl XLIV) during the 2009 season along with making two NFC Championship Game appearances, winning seven NFC South Division titles and making nine playoff trips. With New Orleans, Payton helped lead an offense that ranked in the top 10 in each season from 2006-19. In his first season with the Saints in 2006, he received unanimous NFL Coach of the Year honors after leading the team to a 10-6 record. Prior to joining New Orleans, he spent three years on the Dallas Cowboys staff as assistant to the head coach & quarterbacks coach (2003-05). Payton got his first NFL offensive coordinator position with the New York Giants (2000-02) after spending one season as the team's quarter- backs coach (1999). He first entered the NFL with the Philadelphia Eagles as their quarterbacks coach (1997-98). Career record: 184-108-0

Background: Attended Eastern Illinois (1983-86). Coached collegiately at Illinois (1996), Miami (Ohio) (1994-95), San Diego State (1988-89; '92-93) and Indiana State (1990-91). Had brief playing stops with the Chicago Bruins (AFL), Ottawa Rough Riders (CFL) and Chicago Bears in 1987.

Personal: Born Dec. 29, 1963, in San Mateo, Calif. Payton is married to Skylene. He has one daughter, Meghan, and one son, Connor.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

DeMeco Ryans, Head Coach

Pro Career: DeMeco Ryans enters his fourth season as head coach of the Texans after being named to the role on Jan. 31, 2023, becoming the sixth head coach in franchise history. In 2025, the Houston Texans finished the regular season with a 12-5 record, tied for the most regular season wins in franchise history, and earned the franchise's first ever road playoff win. The Texans also finished the season on a 10-game winning streak, including playoffs, the longest winning streak in franchise history. Houston has won a playoff game in three consecutive seasons for the first time in team history. Ryans became the first head coach in franchise history to record three straight 10-win seasons. Ryans and QB C.J. Stroud became the second head coach/quarterback duo since 1950 to reach the Divisional Round in each of their first three seasons. In Ryans' third season, the Texans earned five AFC Player of the Week awards for the second consecutive season. The team also had four players named to the 2026 Pro Bowl. CB Derek Stingley Jr. earned his second consecutive AP First Team All-Pro selection while DE Will Anderson Jr. was tabbed with the honor for the first time in his career. Anderson joins J.J. Watt as the only defensive ends in franchise history to be named First Team All-Pro. DE Danielle Hunter earned AP Second Team All-Pro honors. In 2025, the Texans defense set franchise records by allowing the fewest total net yards (277.2) in franchise history and tied the franchise record in points allowed per game (17.4). Houston's defense also recorded the highest turnover differential (+17) in a season in Texans history. The Texans ranked first in the NFL in yards allowed per game (277.2) and first downs allowed per game (16.2), third in opponent passer rating (76.2), opponent completion percentage (59.3%) and tied for third in interceptions (19), fourth in rush yards allowed (1,593) and rush yards allowed per game (93.7) and fifth in yards allowed per play (4.8). In 2024, the Houston Texans finished the regular season with a 10-7 record and clinched a playoff berth for the eighth time in franchise history. It marked just the second time in franchise history that the Texans made it to the Divisional Round in back-to-back seasons (2012-13). The Texans won their second consecutive AFC South title, making Ryans and Stroud the first quarterback/head coach duo in NFL history to win a division crown in each of their first two seasons together. Additionally, Ryans and Stroud became the third head coach/quarterback duo in NFL history to win a playoff game in each of their first two seasons and the third duo in NFL history to record 10-plus wins in each of their first two seasons with the club. Ryans joined Bill O'Brien (2018-19) and Gary Kubiak (2011-12) as the only coaches in franchise history to lead their team to back-to-back 10-win seasons. Under Ryans, the Texans earned five AFC Player of the Week awards and one AFC Player of the Month award. Additionally, the team had five players named to the 2025 Pro Bowl, marking the most selections they've had in a season since 2018. CB Derek Stingley Jr. was also named to the Associated Press All-Pro First Team, joining J.J. Watt as the only two defensive players in team history to garner the award. The Texans defense, coached by Ryans, was dominant in 2024, setting franchise records for most sacks (49.0) and tackles for loss in a season (106). The team also finished the year ranked second in the NFL in interceptions (19), tied for third in passes defensed (90) and tied for fourth in sacks (49.0).

Overall, the defense allowed the sixth-fewest total yards per game (315.0 and the sixth-lowest passing yards per game (201.0), while forcing 29 takeaways, the fifth-most in the NFL. In the Texans' first year under Ryans, the Texans finished with a 10-7 record and clinched a playoff berth for the first time since 2019. Houston won their seventh AFC South title and became the first team in NFL history to win their division with a rookie quarterback and first-year head coach. Additionally, Ryans and QB C.J. Stroud became the fourth rookie quarterback and first-year head coach to win a playoff game together. Under Ryans' leadership in 2023, Stroud and DE Will Anderson Jr. were named the Associated Press NFL Offensive and Defensive Rookie of the Year, marking a Texans sweep of the top rookie awards. The Texans were the fourth team since 1967 to win both Offensive and Defensive Rookie of the Year in the same season. The team's bright season produced two AFC Player of the Month awards, six Player of the Week awards, two NFL Offensive Rookie of the Month awards and three Pro Bowl selections. Ryans coached a team that boasted a +10 net differential in turnover margin, which ranked top five in the NFL. Houston finished the season ranked sixth in rushing defense (96.6) yards per game allowed), while also finishing seventh in the league in passing yards per game (245.5) and 11th in points allowed (20.8). Ryans was named the PFWA Coach of the Year, becoming the first coach in franchise history to win the award. He also was named the Kansas City 101 AFC Coach of the Year.

Background: In 2022, which marked his last season in San Francisco, Ryans was named the PFWA Assistant Coach of the Year. He coached six seasons with the 49ers and two as the team's defensive coordinator (2021-22), helping lead the team to the NFC Championship. He spent the previous three seasons (2018-20) as the 49ers inside linebackers coach, while serving as the team's defensive quality control coach in 2017. Originally drafted in the second round (33rd overall) by the Texans in the 2006 NFL Draft, Ryans played for Houston (2006-11) and the Philadelphia Eagles (2012-15). He was a team captain for the Texans' 2011 season, a squad that claimed the franchise's inaugural AFC South title and playoff berth. Ryans holds the Texans record for the most tackles by a rookie (156) and currently sits as the second-leading tackler in franchise history (636). During his 10-year playing career, Ryans was named AP Defensive Rookie of the Year and PFWA Rookie of the Year in 2006, first-team All-Pro in 2007 and was selected to the Pro Bowl in 2007 and 2009. He appeared in 140 career games (139 starts) throughout his career and registered 970 tackles, 46 passes defensed, 13.5 sacks, seven forced fumbles, 10 fumble recoveries and seven interceptions. Ryans played linebacker at the University of Alabama (2002-05). As a senior, he was a unanimous All-American selection, SEC Defensive Player of the Year and earned first-team All-SEC honors in 2005.

Personal: Born July 28, 1984, in Bessemer, Ala. He and his wife, Jamila, have two daughters, Xia and Zuri, and two sons, MJ and Micah.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Shane Steichen, Head Coach

Pro Career: Shane Steichen was hired as head coach of the Indianapolis Colts on February 14, 2023. He has 19 years of coaching experience, including the last 15 seasons in the NFL. In 2025, the Colts finished with an 8-9 record. The offense ranked in the top 10 in the NFL in numerous categories, including yards per game (345.9 – ninth), yards per play (5.78 – eighth), passing yards per game (227.8 – ninth), touchdowns (52 – fifth), points per drive (2.67 – second) and points per game (27.4 – eighth). From Week 7 of 2024 to Week 10 of 2025, Indianapolis scored either a touchdown or field goal in 71 consecutive red zone possessions, which became the longest streak in league history since 1993. The Colts defense recorded a takeaway in a league-leading 15 games in 2025, finished seventh in the NFL in opponent rushing yards per game (101.9) and 10th in interceptions (14). Indianapolis had an 8-9 record in 2024 and finished in the top 10 in rushing yards per game (137.1 – eighth) for the second consecutive season. Defensively, the Colts defense ranked tied for seventh in the NFL in takeaways (25), tied for first in red zone takeaways (six), 10th in tackles for loss (88.0) and tied for third in forced fumbles (17). In his first season with Indianapolis, Steichen guided the team to a winning record, finishing the season 9-8. The Colts finished in the top 10 in the NFL in points per game (23.3 – tied-10th) and rushing yards per game (121.1 – 10th). Defensively, Indianapolis ranked fifth in the NFL in tackles for loss (94.0) and sacks (51.0), while finishing tied for fifth in forced fumbles (17.0). The team's 51.0 sacks were the most by the Colts in the Indianapolis era (since 1984). Prior to Indianapolis, Steichen served as the offensive coordinator of the Philadelphia Eagles for two seasons (2021-22) and helped the team reach Super Bowl LVII in 2022. During his two seasons as offensive coordinator, he guided an offense that ranked first in the NFL in rushing yards per game (153.6), rushing yards (5,224) and rushing touchdowns (57) over that time frame. Steichen spent seven seasons (2014-20) with the Los Angeles/San Diego Chargers where he served as offensive coordinator (2020), interim offensive coordinator (2019), quarterbacks coach (2016-19) and offensive quality control/wide receivers (2014-15). The Chargers offense finished in the top 10 in passing yards per game in each of his seven years on the offensive staff, including the league's best in 2017. In 2013, Steichen assisted the quarterbacks as an offensive quality control coach with the Cleveland Browns. He began his NFL career as a defensive assistant with the Chargers (2011-12) after spending one season as a full-time offensive assistant at Louisville (2010). Steichen also served as an offensive graduate assistant (2008-09) and student graduate assistant (2007) at his alma mater, UNLV.

Background: As a four-year letterman (2003-06) at quarterback for the Rebels, Steichen left as the school's 12th all-time leading passer with 2,755 yards and 22 touchdowns. He also registered 399 rushing yards and five touchdowns.

Personal: A native of Sacramento, Calif., Steichen was born on May 11, 1985. He and his wife, Nina, have a son, Hudson, and a daughter, Stella.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Liam Coen, Head Coach

Pro Career: Liam Coen was named head coach of the Jacksonville Jaguars on January 24, 2025 and enters his second season in Jacksonville. Coen's Jaguars went 13-4 in his first campaign (most wins by an AFC South team since 2009) and secured the AFC South, the fifth division title in franchise history. He became the NFL's first rookie head coach to win 13+ games after inheriting a team that won four or fewer games the season prior. The Jaguars were one of just four teams to rank among the NFL's top 10 in both points scored (sixth, franchise-record 27.9 ppg) and points allowed (eighth, 19.8 ppg). Jacksonville finished fourth in the NFL in point differential (+138). With Coen at the helm as offensive play caller, the Jaguars scored 25- plus points in 13 games in 2025, tied for the NFL lead. Their eight straight games with 25-plus points scored from Weeks 9 to 16 also tied for the longest streak in the NFL in 2025. Coen helped elevate Trevor Lawrence, whose 38 total TDs ranked third in the NFL. Following a Week 8 bye, the Jaguars went 9-1 and averaged 32.8 ppg. Coen was recognized following the season as a finalist for Coach of the Year while Lawrence was a finalist for MVP and Comeback Player of the Year. Under Coen, the Jaguars set several franchise records, including points scored (474), touchdowns scored (55), points per game (27.9) and first downs (356). Coen and the Jaguars finished with five wins against opponents that qualified for the 2025 NFL Playoffs, the second most such wins in the league. Jacksonville's six road victories in 2025 tied for second most in franchise history and tied for fourth in the NFL. Defensively, Jacksonville led the NFL in run defense (85.6 ypg) and ranked second in takeaways with 31. The Jaguars' +13 turnover margin was third in the NFL. Jacksonville also became the only team in NFL history to have 30-plus takeaways one year after having fewer than 10 the season prior (31 in 2025, 8 in 2024). Jacksonville's special teams unit was also one of the league's best. LS Ross Matiscik earned his third consecutive Pro Bowl nomination and was named an All-Pro by the Associated Press. K Cam Little also converted the two longest field goals in NFL history at 68 and 67 yards, respectively. WR Parker Washington set franchise records in punt return touchdowns (two), tied for the most in the league, and yards per punt return (13.6).

Coen arrived in Jacksonville after spending one season as the offensive coordinator for the Tampa Buccaneers (2024).In his lone season in Tampa Bay, he led the NFL's only offense that finished in the top five in yards per game (399.6), scoring (29.5), passing yards per game (250.4) and rushing yards per game (149.2). Under Coen's direction, the Buccaneers became the first team in NFL history to complete 70 percent of their passes and average over 5.0 yards per carry throughout an entire season, in addition to becoming just the second team in league history with 40-plus passing touchdowns and 5.0-plus yards per rush in a single season. Coen brings 15 years of coaching experience to Jacksonville, including five years in the NFL. Before his stint with Tampa Bay, Coen served as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at the University of Kentucky for the 2023 and 2021 seasons, during which he put forth two of the highest-scoring single seasons in school history. The 2021 Wildcats team amassed 56 total touchdowns, while the 2023 Wildcats team scored 50 total touchdowns. Prior to his most recent stint with the Wildcats, Coen was the Rams' offensive coordinator in 2022 after spending time as the club's assistant quarterbacks coach (2020) and assistant wide receivers coach (2018-19). As assistant wide receivers coach in 2018, Coen helped guide Robert Woods and Brandin Cooks, who each topped 1,200 yards that season on the way to a Super Bowl appearance. The following year, Woods and Cooper Kupp each surpassed 1,100 receiving yards, marking the latter's first 1,000-yard campaign. Prior to his time with the Rams, Coen spent two seasons as the offensive coordinator for the University of Maine (2016-17). He came to the University of Maine from the University of Massachusetts (2014-15), where he had served as the quarterbacks coach and passing game coordinator. Coen also spent three years as the quarterbacks coach at Brown University (2010, 2012-13) and one year as the quarterbacks coach and passing game coordinator at the University of Rhode Island (2011).

Background: Prior to his coaching career, Coen played quarterback at the University of Massachusetts from 2005-08. He holds the program records for completions (830), attempts (1,302), completion percentage (63.7 percent), passing yards (11,031), yards per attempt (8.5), passing touchdowns (50) and passer rating (150.7). He graduated in 2008 with a degree in communications.

Personal: Born Nov. 8, 1985. A native of Wakefield, Rhode Island, Coen and his wife, Ashley, have two sons, Jackson and Callahan.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Andy Reid, Head Coach

Pro Career: Andy Reid was named the 13th head coach in Kansas City Chiefs history on Jan. 7, 2013. He is entering his 35th season in the National Football League and his 28th season as an NFL head coach in 2026. In 2024, Kansas City continued their AFC West dominance under Reid, winning their ninth consecutive division title and playing in their seventh-consecutive AFC Championship Game. Kansas City also became the first team in NFL history to play in three straight Super Bowls with the opportunity to three-peat. Reid became the winningest coach in franchise history, tallying 167 total wins (149 regular season and 18 postseason) in Kansas City. He is the first coach to become the winningest head coach for two different clubs (Philadelphia; 140). In 2023, the Chiefs became one of just eight teams to win back-to-back Super Bowl titles in league history (LVII and LVIII). The Chiefs took down the 49ers, 25-22, in overtime to make history. With Reid's third Super Bowl win with the Chiefs, he is the only active head coach who has led teams to multiple Super Bowl wins. Reid now owns 28 postseason victories, second only to Bill Belichick's 31 postseason wins. In 2022, his 10th season with the Chiefs, Reid and company tallied 14 wins, tying the record set in 2020 under Reid's direction, and going undefeated against the AFC West for the first time since 2019. The Chiefs also hosted their fifth consecutive AFC Championship Game, an NFL record, and defeated the Cincinnati Bengals en route to their Super Bowl LVII victory over the Eagles. In 2019, Reid led the Chiefs to their first Super Bowl appearance and victory in 50 years, bringing the Lombardi Trophy back to Kansas City for the first time since 1969. Additionally, the Chiefs 35-24 victory over the Tennessee Titans in the AFC Championship Game brought the Lamar Hunt Trophy to Kansas City for the first time ever. In 2015 Reid also led the Chiefs to their first playoff win since 1993, with a win at Houston in the Wild Card round of the playoffs. In his first season in Kansas City in 2013, he helped orchestrate the franchise's best single-season turnaround as the Chiefs won 11 games and made the playoffs after going 2-14 the previous season. Prior to joining the Chiefs, he served as the head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles for 14 years (1999-2012), earning NFL Coach of the Year honors three times. Reid compiled the best win total (140) and playoff victory total (10) in Eagles history. He captured six division titles and five trips to the NFC Championship Game. Reid was an assistant coach with Green Bay (1992-98) under Mike Holmgren. With Green Bay, he helped the Packers earn a Super Bowl XXXI victory over New England. Career record: 307-174-1.

Background: A tackle and guard at Brigham Young (1979-81), Reid played on three Cougars Holiday Bowl teams. Served as a college coach at Brigham Young (1982), San Francisco State (1983-85), Northern Arizona (1986), Texas-El Paso (1987-88) and Missouri (1989-91). Reid graduated with a bachelor's degree in physical education. He also received a master's degree in professional leadership in physical education and athletics.

Personal: Born March 19, 1958, in Los Angeles, Calif. Reid and his wife, Tammy, have five children: Britt, Crosby, Drew Ann, Spencer and the late Garrett. He has 14 grandchildren: Maverick, Somers, Saylor, Blake, Reid, Brigitte, Canyon, Ryker, Rylen, Garrett, Ford, Levi, Deacon Andrew and Monroe.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Klint Kubiak, Head Coach

Pro career: Klint Kubiak was named Head Coach of the Las Vegas Raiders on Feb. 9, 2026, joining the Silver and Black after serving as the offensive coordinator for the Seattle Seahawks' 2025 championship campaign. Kubiak, whose father, Gary, was an NFL quarterback and long-time head coach for the Houston Texans and Denver Broncos, enters his 13th season in the NFL and 17th overall in the professional and collegiate coaching ranks. In 2025, Kubiak was instrumental in helping lead the Seahawks to a 14-3 record, an NFC West Division title, and a Super Bowl LX victory. Before joining Seattle, he served as the offensive coordinator for the New Orleans Saints in 2024 after one season as the San Francisco 49ers offensive passing game specialist in 2023. In 2022, Kubiak served as offensive passing game coordinator/quarterbacks coach for the Denver Broncos, after coaching three seasons with the Minnesota Vikings (2019-21), the first two seasons as quarterbacks coach and one year as offensive coordinator. He served as the offensive assistant/quarterbacks coach in his first coaching stint with the Broncos from 2016-18. In addition to his NFL experience, Kubiak coached four years at the collegiate level with Texas A&M and Kansas. He served as an offensive quality control coach (2010-11) and graduate assistant/inside wide receivers coach (2012) for Texas A&M, earning his master's degree in human resource development. Kubiak coached wide receivers for the Jayhawks in 2015.

Background: Kubiak was a four-year letterman at Colorado State. He played safety for the Rams and was named a team captain as a senior, while earning an invitation to play in the East-West Shrine Game. He is the oldest son of Gary Kubiak, who played quarterback for the Denver Broncos for nine seasons (1983-91), was a long-time NFL assistant coach, the Houston Texans head coach (2006-13), and Super Bowl 50-winning head coach for the Broncos (2015-16). He has two brothers, Klay, the San Francisco 49ers offensive coordinator, and Klein, who serves as a national scout/special projects for the Dallas Cowboys.

Personal: Born Feb. 17, 1987, in Houston, Texas. He and his wife, Tessa, have four children.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

Jim Harbaugh, Head Coach

Pro Career: Jim Harbaugh returned to the Chargers as the 19th head coach in franchise history, continuing his willing culture, having a career record of 144-52 as a collegiate head coach and a 71-36-1 record as an NFL head coach. Harbaugh enters his third season as the Los Angeles head coach after leading the Chargers to an 11-6 regular-season record and a playoff berth in back-to-back seasons, with the team boasting the league's top scoring defense in 2024 by allowing just 17.7 points per game. Over nine seasons as head coach at the University of Michigan, he led the Wolverines to an 86-25 record along with three-consecutive Big Ten Championships, three-straight appearances in the College Football Playoff and a perfect 15-0 record and the being 2023 National Champions during his final season in Ann Arbor, Mich. As head coach for the Wolverines, Harbaugh coached the top defense in the nation, allowing just 291.0 yards per game in that nine-year span. Michigan had a top-five defense in the country five times over those nine seasons, including twice as the top-ranked defense in the nation. Harbaugh returned to his alma mater after spending four seasons (2011-14) as the head coach of the San Francisco 49ers, leading the team to a 49-22-1 record and three-consecutive NFC Championship Games, including a victory in 2012 to represent the NFC in Super Bowl XLVII. He was named 2011 NFL Coach of the Year by The Associated Press after his first season with San Francisco, when he led the 49ers to an NFC West division crown with a 13-3 record. That season, the defense led the NFL with 38 takeaways and ranked No. 1 in rushing defense, allowing just 77.3 yards per game on the ground. Harbaugh coached 17 players to a combined 30 Pro Bowls with the 49ers — the second-most Pro Bowlers in the NFL over that span. Eight of those players were also recognized as AP first-team All-Pros, including linebackers Patrick Willis (twice) and NaVorro Bowman (three times). Over Harbaugh's four years with San Francisco, the 49ers led the NFL in rushing defense (92.0 yards per game), while ranking No. 2 in scoring defense (17.4 points per game), third in total defense (310.2) and No. 4 with 122 takeaways.

Background: Played quarterback at Michigan (1982-86) before playing quarterback 15 seasons in the National Football League with the Bears (1987-93), Colts (1994-97), Ravens (1998), Chargers (1999-2000) and Panthers (2001). Worked as an assistant for his father, Jack Harbaugh, at Western Kentucky during his NFL playing career. Coached as an offensive assistant for the Raiders from 2002-03 before becoming the head coach at the University of San Diego (2004-06) and Stanford University (2007-10). Returned to the NFL as a head coach of the San Francisco 49ers from 2011-14, leading the 49ers to three-straight NFC Championship games, including an appearance in Super Bowl SLVII, and winning NFL Coach of the Year honors in 2011. He then returned to his alma mater — the University of Michigan — to be the head coach from 2015-23, culminating in a perfect 15-0 record that saw the Wolverines crowned 2023 National Champions.

Personal: Born December 23, 1963 in Toledo, Ohio. Harbaugh and his wife, Sarah, have two daughters — Addison and Katherine — and two sons — Jack and John. He also has three adult children — Jay, James Jr., and Grace. Harbaugh's son, Jay, is the special teams coordinator for the Seattle Seahawks. He is also the younger brother of New York Giants Head Coach John Harbaugh. Harbaugh's brother-in-law, Tom Crean, is a longtime college head basketball coach and is married to the brothers' sister, Joani.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

Jeff Hafley, Head Coach
Pro Career: Jeff Hafley enters his first season with the Miami Dolphins after being named the 12th head coach in franchise history on Jan. 19, 2026. Hafley has 25 prior years of coaching experience, including nine in the NFL and four as a head coach at the collegiate level. He joined the Dolphins after serving as the defensive coordinator of the Green Bay Packers for two seasons (2024-25), helping the team post a 20-13-1 regular season record, make consecutive playoff appearances and produce a combined three All-Pro selections and three Pro Bowl nods on the defensive side of the ball. In Hafley's first year as coordinator in 2024, Green Bay ranked fifth in total defense (314.5) and in yards allowed per play (5.2), seventh in run defense (99.4), sixth in scoring defense (19.9) and fourth in takeaways (31), while finishing tied for eighth in sacks (45). Despite several injuries in 2025, Hafley's unit finished in the top half of the league in total defense (311.8), yards allowed per play (5.0), yards allowed per carry (4.2), passing defense (194.1) and third down defense (39.4%). Prior to Green Bay, Hafley was the head coach at Boston College (2020-23), where he led the Eagles to Bowl eligibility in three of four seasons while producing 35 All-ACC selections and four players selected in the NFL Draft. In 2019, Hafley served as co defensive coordinator and secondary coach at Ohio State, helping lead the team to a Big Ten championship and a berth in the College Football Playoff behind a unit that ranked No. 1 nationally in yards allowed per play (4.13), total defense (259.7), passing defense (156.0) and sacks (54). Before Ohio State, Hafley spent three seasons (2016–18) as the San Francisco 49ers' defensive backs coach and two seasons (2014–15) as the secondary coach with the Cleveland Browns. His NFL coaching career began with Tampa Bay, where he served as the assistant defensive backs coach (2012) and the secondary/safeties coach (2013). Prior to the NFL, Hafley coached various defensive positions, primarily in the secondary, at Rutgers (2011), Pitt (2006-10) and Albany (2002-05). He started his coaching career at Worcester Polytechnic Institute (2001), working with the running backs. Career record: 0-0.

Background: Hafley earned a History degree in 2001 from Siena College, where he played wide receiver from 1997-2000 and was a four-year letterwinner. No pro playing experience.

Personal: Born April 4, 1979, in Montvale, N.J. He and his wife, Gina, have two daughters, Hope and Leah.

ASSISTANT COACHES

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Mike Vrabel, Head Coach

Pro Career: Mike Vrabel was introduced by Patriots Chairman and CEO Robert Kraft as the 16th head coach in franchise history in a press conference at Gillette Stadium on Jan. 13, 2025. Vrabel is a three-time Super Bowl champion with New England and was voted into the Patriots Hall of Fame in 2023. He is recognized as one of the most versatile linebackers and best free agent signings in team history. Vrabel is the seventh individual to become the head coach for a franchise he once helped win a Super Bowl as a player and the only one with three Super Bowl wins, joining Jerod Mayo (New England - 1), Bart Starr (Green Bay- 2), Forrest Gregg (Green Bay- 2), Art Shell (Oakland- 2), Jeff Saturday (Indianapolis - 1) and Jason Garrett (Dallas -2). Vrabel is the second head coach for the Patriots that was formerly a Patriots player. He is the sixth Patriots head coach in team history to have played professional football. The five other Patriots head coaches that played professional football include: Lou Saban (1960-61), Mike Holovak (1961-68), Clive Rush (1969-70), Raymond Berry (1984-89) and Jerod Mayo (2008-15). Vrabel has spent his football life around accomplished leaders. After entering the NFL as a player in 1997, he played or coached under Bill Belichick, Bill Cowher, Romeo Crennel, Urban Meyer and Bill O'Brien. He gleaned attributes from each that helped form his philosophies as a head coach. Vrabel has 14 years of coaching experience, including 11 years in the NFL and three seasons at Ohio State. The Tennessee Titans hired him as their head coach in 2018 and he led the Titans to two division titles and three playoff appearances during his six seasons at the helm. In 2019, the Titans upset the Patriots in Foxborough in the wild card round, then defeated the No. 1 seed Ravens in Baltimore the following week to advance to the AFC Championship Game, where they lost to the eventual Super Bowl Champion Kansas City Chiefs. In 2021, the Titans claimed the top seed in the AFC with a 12-5 record, earning Vrabel NFL Coach of the Year honors. Vrabel became the linebackers coach at Ohio State in 2011 and then served as the defensive line coach for the Buckeyes for two seasons (2012-13). In 2014, Vrabel was hired by Houston Texans head coach Bill O'Brien as the linebackers coach (2014-16) and was promoted to defensive coordinator for the Texans in 2017. After six seasons as the head coach of the Titans (2018-23), he spent last season with the Cleveland Browns as a coaching and personnel consultant. With playoff appearances in 2019, 2020 and 2021, Vrabel became the sixth head coach in Oilers/Titans history to coach at least three playoff teams. The others are Jeff Fisher (six), Jack Pardee (four), Bum Phillips (three), Jerry Glanville (three) and Wally Lemm (three). The Titans won back-to-back AFC South titles in 2020 and 2021, marking the first time the organization accomplished the feat since the Oilers won.

Background: Was a defensive lineman for the Ohio State Buckeyes (1993-96). Earned back-to-back All-American honors and was twice named Big Ten Conference Defensive Lineman of the Year (1995 and 1996). Third-round draft pick of the Pittsburgh Steelers (1997-2000) and played for the New England Patriots (2001-08) and Kansas City Chiefs (2009-10). With the Patriots, he earned Pro Bowl and first-team All-Pro honors in 2007 and was a member of three Super Bowl Championship squads. Coached collegiately at Ohio State (2011-13).

Personal: Born August 4, 1975 in Akron, Ohio. He and his wife, Jennifer, are the parents of two sons, Tyler and Carter.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Aaron Glenn, Head Coach
Pro career: Aaron Glenn was named the 22nd head coach in franchise history by Chairman Robert Wood Johnson on Jan. 22, 2025. A 15-year NFL veteran defensive back, Glenn enters his second season leading the Jets after starting his career with the organization as a first-round pick (12th overall) in the 1994 NFL Draft. He played eight seasons with the team (1994-2001) that included two Pro Bowl selections and 24 interceptions, tied for the fourth-most all-time in franchise history. In his first season back at the helm (2025), Glenn oversaw one of the youngest rosters in football, recording a league-high 10,123 snaps by first- and second-year players, in addition to ranking second in rookie snaps (5,319), receiving valuable contributions from its young core. A testament to Glenn's emphasis on player development, 15 of the final 53 players (28.3%) on the final roster were originally signed to, or spent time on, the practice squad prior to being signed to the active roster. Despite the youth and change through Glenn's first year, the Jets decreased their penalties per game average to 6.47 after leading the league in each of the prior two seasons (2023-24). The team's decrease (-1.59) in penalties per game from 2024 represented the third-largest in the league, in addition to decreasing their 15-yard penalty count by the fifth-largest margin. Under Glenn, the Jets were a top-10 third-down defense for the first time since 2018, while the special teams unit posted the highest Expected Points Added (EPA) in the league (62.18), the highest EPA by a Jets special teams this century and the third-highest by any team in the last 10 seasons. On offense, the Jets notched a top-10 rushing unit for the first time since 2015, and averaged 4.6 yards per carry, the third-highest mark by a Jets offense in franchise history. 2026 will mark Glenn's 13th season coaching in the NFL after previously serving as the defensive coordinator for the Detroit Lions (2021-24), and prior coaching stops with the Cleveland Browns (2014-15) and New Orleans Saints (2016-20). As defensive coordinator with the Lions (2021-24), Glenn's unit improved every season. After a 3-13-1 finish in his first year (2021), Detroit won 36 games between 2022-24, the fourth-most in the league, including a league-best 27 in his final two seasons (2023-24). In his final year in Detroit (2024), Glenn's defense finished in the top 10 in scoring defense and takeaways resulting in a league-best +13.1 points per game differential, the fifth-highest margin by any team in the last 25 years. Detroit finished fifth in the NFL in rushing yards allowed (1,672) and fourth in percentage of rushing first downs allowed (23.3%), while allowing the lowest opposing passer rating (82.0), and second lowest completion percentage (61.1%). Glenn's defense finished with the lowest third-down conversion rate allowed (32.4%), despite losing five Week One starters to injury.

Background: Defensive back at Navarro College (TX) 1990-91 and Texas A&M 1992-93. The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform:

Mike McCarthy, Head Coach
Pro Career: Named the 17th head coach in Steelers history when he replaced Mike Tomlin on January 27, 2026. As a head coach, McCarthy has racked up a 174-112-2 (.608) regular-season record – with Green Bay (2006-18) and Dallas (2020-24) – and owns the fourth-most wins among active NFL coaches and 15th-most in League history. His teams have won six NFC North Division titles, two NFC East Division titles, reached four NFC Championship Games and took home a Super Bowl XLV championship following the 2010 NFL season. McCarthy has registered 10+ wins in 11 of his 18 seasons as head coach. He has recorded 12+ wins in six different seasons, which is tied for fourth-most in NFL history – bested only by Bill Belichick (13), Andy Reid (10) and Don Shula (8). One of the NFL's most innovative offensive minds, McCarthy's offenses have routinely finished among the top 10 leaguewide in passing yards (14 times), total offense (11) and scoring (12). In fact, he has guided the NFL's highest-scoring offense four times, ranked in the top five nine times and in the top 10 on 11 occasions. Dallas and Green Bay averaged 26.8 and 25.9 points/game, respectively, ranking second and third in the NFL in scoring offense during his tenures. McCarthy is also a renowned developer of quarterbacks across different eras, including Joe Montana, Brett Favre, Rich Gannon, Aaron Rodgers and Dak Prescott. His quarterback's collective achievements include 45 Pro Bowl selections, 10 Super Bowl starts and 10 Most Valuable Player awards. He oversaw Favre's late-career resurgence and Rodgers' rise into an all-time great. McCarthy helped Favre get back on track in the latter part of his career, guiding him to one of his most efficient seasons in 2007 – which followed a 29-interception campaign in 2005. During 11 seasons with Rodgers, the signal caller had some of his best seasons as an NFL passer – twice named MVP (2011 and 2014), and went 100-57-1 in 158 starts, throwing for 337 TDs, just 79 interceptions and 42,615 yards. McCarthy mentored the two best seasons of Prescott's tenure as Cowboys' starting quarterback (2021 and 2023) – when he threw for at least 36 TDs, tossed no more than 10 interceptions, and completed at least 68.8% of his passes. Career record: 174-112-2.

Background: McCarthy began his six-year collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant at Fort Hays State in 1987, just after completing his playing career at nearby Baker University. He earned a degree in business administration and was an all-conference tight end and senior captain in 1986, helping lead the Wildcats to an NAIA Division II national runner-up finish.

Personal: Born in Greenfield, Pennsylvania, on Nov. 10, 1963. He and his wife, Jessica, are the parents of five children, Alexis, Jack, George, Gabrielle and Isabella.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

Robert Saleh, Head Coach

Robert Saleh became the 22nd head coach in franchise history on Jan. 22, 2026. Enters 22nd year as an NFL coach, in addition to three years as a college coach. During his time in the NFL, he has been a part of nine top-10 defenses, and in his nine seasons as a defensive coordinator or head coach, his team has finished in the top five in total defense on five occasions. Prior to joining the Titans, Saleh spent the 2025 campaign with the San Francisco 49ers in his second stint as defensive coordinator. As the head coach of the New York Jets (2021-24), Saleh guided four different players in their first four years in the NFL to first-team Associated Press All-Pro honors (cornerback Sauce Gardner, defensive lineman Quinnen Williams and returner Braxton Berrios) and/or Pro Bowl appearances (Gardner, Williams and linebacker Jermaine Johnson II). The Jets defense finished in the top 10 in multiple categories over the 2022 and 2023 seasons, and over that two-year span, Saleh's Jets ranked first in passing yards allowed per game (178.9) and opponent yards per play (4.7), second in total defense (301.7) and sixth in opponent yards per rush (4.1). Before taking the helm in New York, Saleh logged four seasons (2017-20) in his first stint as the defensive coordinator for the 49ers. During that span, the 49ers defense ranked third in passing yards allowed per game (211.4), fourth in total defense (323.6) and opponent yards per play (5.1) and sixth in opponent yards per rush (4.1). Saleh joined San Francisco after three years (2014-16) as the linebackers coach of the Jaguars and three seasons (2011-13) as a defensive quality control coach for the Seattle Seahawks. He totaled six seasons with the Texans, serving as a coaching intern (2005), defensive assistant (2006-08) and assistant linebackers coach (2009-10). Career record: 20-36.

Background: A tight end at Northern Michigan (1997-2000). No pro playing experience. Saleh coached collegiately at Michigan State (2002-03) and Central Michigan (2004).

Personal: Born Jan. 31, 1979, in Dearborn, Mich. He and his wife, Sanaa, have eight children: sons Adam, Zane, Michael, Sam, Jacob and Robert Jr., and daughters Mila and Ella.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Mike LaFleur, Head Coach

Pro Career: Became an NFL head coach for the first time when hired by Arizona on February 2, 2026. LaFleur came to the Cardinals with 12 years of experience in the NFL with the Rams (2023-25), Jets (2021-22), 49ers (2017-20), Falcons (2015-16) and Browns (2014). He spent the past three seasons (2023-25) as the offensive coordinator with the Los Angeles Rams, the most recent of which saw the franchise earn a spot in the NFC Championship Game. In three seasons as the Rams offensive coordinator, Los Angeles featured one of the NFL's top offenses, ranking 5th in passing yards per game (244.9), first downs per game (21.4) and offensive TDs (144), 6th in total yards per game (361.8) and offensive points per game (24.4). QB Matthew Stafford excelled under LaFleur the past three seasons, ranking 2nd in passing yards (12,434), 3rd in passing TDs (90) and 4th in completions (1,054) during that span. After leading the league in passing yards (4,707) and touchdown passes (46) for the first time in his career in 2025, Stafford earned NFL MVP honors for the first time. At 37 years old, Stafford became the oldest player in NFL history to win his first-ever MVP award. In 2025, the Rams led the NFL in total offense (394.6 ypg) and passing offense (268.1 ypg) while also ranking 7th in rushing offense (7). LA also led the league in points scored (518), total TDs (65) and passing TDs (46). The Rams had a league-leading 396 first downs, tied for the league lead in fewest sacks allowed (23) and committed the fewest penalties in the NFL (75). Under LaFleur's guidance in 2024, the Rams finished 10th in passing yards per game (227.5) and 15th in offensive yards per game (331.4). During his first season in LA in 2023, the Rams finished 7th in yards per game (359.3) and yards per play (5.6), 11th in rushing yards per game (120.3), 10th in passing yards per game (239.0), and 8th in first downs per game (20.6), third down conversion rate (42%), and points scored per game (23.7). WR Puka Nacua set then NFL single-season records for receptions (105) and receiving yards (1,486) by a rookie. RB Kyren Williams earned second-team All-Pro honors that season after rushing for 1,144 yards and 12 TDs on just 228 carries (5.0 avg.). Prior to working with the Rams, LaFleur was the offensive coordinator with the New York Jets (2021-22) following a four-year run with the San Francisco 49ers in which he served as the passing game coordinator/wide receivers coach (2017-18) and passing game coordinator (2019-20). He broke into the NFL coaching ranks as an offensive intern with the Cleveland Browns in 2014 before spending two seasons (2015-16) as an offensive assistant with the Atlanta Falcons.

Background: LaFleur played collegiately as a safety at Elmhurst, beginning his college career as a quarterback before switching positions in his final year. He was the starting quarterback for the Bluejays as a sophomore in 2006 and served as a team captain while playing safety as a senior in 2008. He attended Mount Pleasant (MI) High School where he was a two-sport athlete who played quarterback and ran track for the Oilers.

Personal: Born March 3, 1987 in Mount Pleasant, Michigan. LaFleur and his wife, Lauren, have two children – daughter, Addison and son, Wes. LaFleur's older brother, Matt, is the head coach of the Green Bay Packers. The pair are just the fourth set of brothers ever to serve as NFL head coaches joining Jim and John Harbaugh, Jon and Jay Gruden and Al and Ted Nesser.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Kevin Stefanski, Head Coach

Pro Career: Stefanski was named the 20th head coach in Atlanta Falcons history on Jan. 17, 2026. He takes over the club after spending the previous six seasons (2020-25) as the head coach for the Cleveland Browns. Two-time AP Coach of the Year, Stefanski became the 16th coach to win the Associated Press NFL Coach of the Year Award multiple times since its inception in 1957, winning the honors in 2023 and 2020. In his six seasons as head coach in Cleveland, Stefanski has led the team to two postseason appearances and two 11-win seasons, leading the Browns to the playoffs for the first time since 2002 and their first playoff win since 1994 with an 11-5 record in 2020, their best since 1994. He joined Pro Football Hall of Famer Paul Brown (1951 and 1953) as the only coaches in team history to record multiple seasons with at least 11 regular season wins. In 2023, the Browns made the playoffs and finished 11-6. During his tenure in Cleveland, his teams consistently were one of the league's best rushing units with three top-six finishes in average rush yards per game. During the Browns 78-year history, the team has surpassed 6,000 scrimmage yards in a single season just seven times but have reached the mark in four seasons under Stefanski. Since 2020, the Browns are fifth in the NFL with an average of 130.5 rushing yards per game. Defensively, the Browns are third in the NFL with an average of 322.3 yards allowed per game under Stefanski, including just 204.1 passing yards allowed, the second-fewest since 2020. Stefanski helped several Browns earn individual honors as defensive end Myles Garrett and right tackle Jack Conklin were named first-team All-Pros by Associated Press, while guard Joel Bitonio and guard Wyatt Teller each earned second team honors. Garrett, Bitonio and running back Nick Chubb were selected to the Pro Bowl in 2022. In 2021, the Browns led the NFL in rushing average with 5.09 mark, which helped running back Nick Chubb finish second in the league in rushing yards. Prior to his time in Cleveland, Stefanski spent 14 seasons with the Minnesota Vikings, rising from assistant to the head coach to offensive coordinator during that span. Stefanski joined the Vikings in 2006 as an assistant to the head coach and remained with the organization under three different head coaches. After serving as assistant quarterbacks coach from 2009-13, Stefanski spent two seasons (2014-15) coaching the tights ends and one season (2016) as running backs coach. From 2017-18, he coached the quarterbacks and added the role of interim offensive coordinator for the final three games before being named the team's offensive coordinator in 2019.

Background: Stefanski played defensive back at Pennsylvania (2000-04) and earned a bachelor's degree in communications.

Personal: Born and raised in Philadelphia, Pa., he graduated from the University of Pennsylvania.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

Dave Canales, Head Coach

Pro Career: Dave Canales is in his third season as head coach for the Carolina Panthers after being named the seventh head coach in franchise history on January 25, 2024. In his second season (2025), Carolina earned its first NFC South title since 2015 after a 1-3 start, becoming just the 10th team to accomplish this feat over the past 20 seasons. He joins Dom Capers (1996) and John Fox (2003) as the only Carolina head coaches to appear in the postseason in one of their first two seasons. In 2025, the Panthers won seven one-score games and four contests after trailing at halftime, tying for third in the league in each category.

Canales spent his first 13 seasons in the NFL with Seattle (2010-22) in various roles on offense, helping the Seahawks earn 10 playoff appearances, two conference championships and a Super Bowl XLVIII title. He then served as offensive coordinator for Tampa Bay in 2023, contributing to an NFC South title. Canales spent one season at the University of Southern California (2009). He made the jump to USC from El Camino (California) College (2006-08), where he worked as a part-time coach at the annual Pete Carroll football camps and built a relationship with Carroll. Canales began his coaching career as the head freshman/sophomore coach and offensive coordinator at his alma mater, Carson High School (2004-05).

Background: Played wide receiver at Azusa Pacific from 1999-2003. No pro playing experience. College coach: El Camino College 2006-08, Southern California 2009. Pro coach: Seattle Seahawks 2010-22, Tampa Bay Buccaneers 2023. Joined Panthers in 2024.

Personal: A native of Carson, Calif., Canales was born on May 7, 1981. He and his wife, Lizzy, have four children.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

Ben Johnson, Head Coach
Pro Career: Pro Career: Ben Johnson was named head coach of the Chicago Bears on January 21, 2025. Johnson became the 18th full-time Head Coach in the franchise's 107-year history. In his first season as Head Coach of the Bears, Johnson led Chicago to an NFC North Division title and 12 total wins, including 11 in the regular season. Johnson became the first Head Coach in franchise history to win a postseason game in their first year at the helm, as his 12 victories tied for the most by a first-year Head Coach in the history of the Chicago Bears. Johnson arrived in Chicago after leading one of the NFL's most prolific offenses with the Detroit Lions. Johnson most recently served as offensive coordinator (2022-24) in Detroit. In each of his three seasons coordinating Detroit's offense (2022-24), Johnson's group finished in the top-five in the league in total offense each year. Before being elevated to offensive coordinator, Johnson spent two years as the Lions tight ends coach (2020-21) following one season as an offensive quality control coach (2019). Prior to Detroit, Johnson served seven seasons on the staff of the Miami Dolphins, working under three different head coaches. Over his seven years in Miami, Johnson worked in the capacities of offensive assistant (2012), assistant quarterbacks coach (2013-15), tight ends coach (2015), assistant wide receivers coach (2016-17) and wide receivers coach (2018). Career record: 12-7

Background: Johnson attended A.C. Reynolds High School in Asheville, N.C. where he helped lead the team to a North Carolina 4-A state championship as a junior. He was a walk-on quarterback at the University of North Carolina where he earned degrees in mathematics and computer science. After graduation, he spent a year as a software developer in North Carolina, before joining the coaching ranks as a graduate assistant (2009-10) and tight ends coach (2011) at Boston College.

Personal: Born May 11, 1986, in Charleston, S.C. Johnson and his wife, Jessica, have three children – Emory, Kennedy and Halle.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Brian Schottenheimer, Head Coach

Pro Career: Brian Schottenheimer was named the 10th head coach of the Dallas Cowboys on Jan. 24, 2025, after two seasons as the team's offensive coordinator. Schottenheimer's first season at the helm of the Cowboys focused on competition, passion and connection at every level of the organization, and despite falling short of the team goals, established a concrete foundation for the program moving forward. In 2025 Schottenheimer's offensive acumen reignited an attack that finished among the NFL's elite in both production and efficiency through a balanced approach. The unit ranked top five in total offense and scoring, finishing second in the NFL in total offense (391.9 yards-per game) and in scoring efficiency, with 48.0% of offensive drives ending in points. Schottenheimer, a veteran coach with 26 years of NFL coaching experience and 15 years as an offensive coordinator at the pro level, previously served as a consultant for the Cowboys throughout the 2022 season, studying future opponents and assisting both the offensive and defensive units with game planning and self-scouting. Before joining Dallas, Schottenheimer was the passing game coordinator for Jacksonville during the 2021 season. Previously, Schottenheimer spent three seasons (2018-20) as the Seattle Seahawks offensive coordinator, in which he helped lead the Seahawks to three consecutive postseason appearances. Over those three seasons, Seattle ranked third in touchdown passes (106), passer rating (106.8) and rushing yards-per-game (140.2). Schottenheimer spent three seasons as the offensive coordinator for the St. Louis Rams (2012-14). Also, Schottenheimer spent six seasons as the New York Jets offensive coordinator (2006-11), assembling an offense that helped the Jets earn back-to-back appearances in the AFC Championship Game from 2009-10 while also leading the NFL in rushing (160.3 yards-per-game). Schottenheimer also made stops in Kansas City (offensive assistant, 1998), Washington (quarterbacks, 2001), San Diego (quarterbacks, 2002-05), Indianapolis (quarterbacks, 2016-17).

Background: Played quarterback at the University of Florida from 1994-96. Coached collegiately at Syracuse (1999), Southern California (2000) and Georgia (2015). No pro playing experience.

Personal: Born Oct. 16, 1973 in Denver, Colo. He and his wife, Gemmi, have a son, Sutton, and a daughter, Savannah. His father, Marty, was a head coach in the NFL from 1984-2006, making stops in Cleveland, Kansas City, Washington and San Diego.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

Dan Campbell, Head Coach

Pro Career: Named the Lions' 28th head coach on January 21, 2021, Campbell enters his sixth season in Detroit in 2026. Under Campbell's leadership, the Lions have secured two NFC North division titles, an NFC Championship appearance and a 15-win season for the first time in franchise history. In his first five seasons with Detroit, Campbell's team has ranked top 10 in almost every major offensive category while producing 13 Pro Bowlers and nine All-Pros. Since 2021, the Lions rank first in total yards (31,962), second in total touchdowns (274) and third in points scored (2,284). Campbell brings 25 years of NFL experience, including 14 years as a coach and 11 as a player. He previously served as the assistant head coach/tight ends coach for the New Orleans Saints, a position he held since 2016.

Background: During the span of his five-year coaching tenure with New Orleans, the club captured four NFC South division titles, ranked first in the NFL in points scored (2,361), touchdowns (277), net yardage (31,147) and posted the third-most wins (56) in the League. In 2015, Campbell became the Miami Dolphins' interim head coach, where he took over a 1-3 team and guided them to a 5-7 finish. Under Campbell, Miami improved eight spots in the NFL's rushing yards per game rankings and saw five Dolphins selected to the Pro Bowl in 2015. Campbell initially joined the Dolphins in 2010 as a coaching intern before overseeing the tight ends unit for five seasons (2011-15).

Personal: Born April 13, 1976 in Clifton, Texas. He and his wife, Holly, have a son, Cody, and a daughter, Piper. He earned a bachelor's degree in agricultural development from Texas A&M.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

Matt LaFleur, Head Coach

Pro Career: Named the 15th head coach in team history on January 8, 2019. Is entering his eighth season as Green Bay's head coach and his 18th season in the NFL. Has led the Packers to 76 regular-season wins, tied for the second most in NFL history by a coach in his first seven seasons (George Seifert, 86 from 1989-95). Has guided the Packers to six playoff appearances in his first seven years, tied for the second most in the NFL since 2019, including back-to-back appearances in the NFC title game (2019-20). Since taking over as head coach in 2019, has helped guide the Packers to top-10 rankings in total offense, scoring offense, total defense and scoring defense, one of only two NFC teams (San Francisco) to finish in the top 10 in all four categories over that span. In 2019-21, became the first coach in league history to win 13-plus games in three straight seasons. Led Green Bay to a 13-3 record in his first season in '19, the biggest one-year win improvement in team history (plus-seven). Served as an offensive coordinator for two seasons (Los Angeles Rams, 2017; Tennessee Titans, 2018) and coached quarterbacks for two seasons with the Atlanta Falcons (2015-16) and four seasons with the Washington Redskins (2010-13). Got his start in the NFL coaching ranks as an offensive assistant with the Houston Texans (2008-09). Has been a part of three staffs that have helped their teams lead the NFL in scoring (2016 Falcons, 2017 Rams, 2020 Packers). Tutored QB Matt Ryan in Atlanta, who posted a league-high 117.1 passer rating in 2016 on his way to being named NFL Most Valuable Player and Offensive Player of the Year by The Associated Press. Coached Robert Griffin III with Washington in 2012, who became the first QB in team history to win AP Offensive Rookie of the Year. Career record: 79-46-1.

Background: Played QB at Saginaw Valley State (2000-02), where he guided the Cardinals to three straight NCAA Division II playoff appearances and earned second-team All-Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference honors in all three seasons. Ranks No. 3 in school history in passing yards (7,699), completions (560) and passing TDs (67). Played in the National Indoor Football League for the Omaha Beef in 2003 and the Billings Outlaws in 2004. Began his coaching career as an offensive assistant at Saginaw Valley State in 2003 before working as a graduate assistant at Central Michigan in 2004-05. Also coached quarterbacks/wide receivers at Northern Michigan in 2006, served as the offensive coordinator at Ashland (Ohio) University in 2007 and coached quarterbacks at Notre Dame in 2014.

Personal: Born November 3, 1979, in Mount Pleasant, Mich. He and his wife, BreAnne, have two sons, Luke and Ty. His younger brother, Mike, is the head coach of the Arizona Cardinals. Their father, Dennis, coached 22 seasons (1976-97) on the staff at Central Michigan.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Sean McVay, Head Coach

Pro Career: Named the 23rd full-time head coach in franchise history on Jan. 12, 2017. In 2025, the Rams finished with a 12-5 record and appeared in the NFC Championship game. McVay's 10 postseason wins became the most by a head coach before the age of 40. McVay also guided QB Matthew Stafford to an MVP season after leading the league in TD passes (46), passing yards (4,707) and tied for third in completions (388). During the 2024 season, McVay passed John Robinson for the most wins by a head coach in franchise history. He also tied Robinson for the most playoff berths by a head coach in franchise history with six. McVay became the youngest head coach in modern NFL history. During the 2023 season, the Rams finished 10-7 and clinched a Wild Card berth against the Lions after going 7-1 in their final eight games. The Rams finished 5-12 in 2022 after an injury-riddled team forced young players to step up. The stars aligned in 2021 as McVay and the Rams went "all in" to win Super Bowl LVI. He finished the regular season 12-5 and became the youngest head coach in NFL history to win a Super Bowl. In 2020, McVay and the Rams posted a 10-6 record, McVay's fourth-consecutive winning season, and earned his third playoff berth in his first four seasons. During the 2019 season the Rams posted a 9- 7 record, the third straight winning season under McVay. In 2018, his second season as head coach, the Rams won 13 games, tied for the second-most single-season wins in franchise history, and competed in the organization's fourth Super Bowl. In his first season in 2017, the Rams won seven more games than the previous season, went from last in the league in scoring to first, and made their first postseason appearance in 13 years. Prior to joining the Rams, McVay was the offensive coordinator (2014-16), tight ends coach (2011-13) and offensive assistant (2010) in Washington. McVay joined Washington prior to 2010 after an undefeated regular season with the Florida Tuskers of the United Football League. The Tuskers finished a perfect 6-0 before losing in the UFL's inaugural championship game. McVay originally entered the National Football League as an offensive assistant with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Career record: 102-62-0.

Background: Played wide receiver at Miami (Ohio). No pro playing experience. His grandfather, John McVay, served in various administrative roles, including director of research development for the New York Giants (1976) and vice president/director of football operations for the San Francisco 49ers (1983-94), as well as serving as general manager one year in San Francisco (1998-99). John McVay oversaw five Super Bowl championship squads and earned induction into the 49ers Hall of Fame in 2013.

Personal: Born Jan. 24, 1986, in Marietta, Ga. Son of Tim and Cindy McVay. Has one brother, Ryan.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Kevin O'Connell, Head Coach

Pro Career: Named the 10th head coach in Vikings history on Feb. 16, 2022. O'Connell joined the Vikings after serving as the offensive coordinator for the Los Angeles Rams from 2020-21, including a Super Bowl LVI victory. Has 11 seasons of NFL coaching experience, including three seasons as an offensive coordinator for the Washington Redskins (2019) and Rams (2020-21). In four years at the helm (2022-25), O'Connell owns a 43-27 (.614) record, the highest winning percentage among all head coaches in franchise history, including playoff games. The 2024 AP Coach of the Year has achieved at least a five-game winning streak in each of his first four seasons as the Vikings Head Coach, tied for the second-longest streak of seasons in NFL history (Mike Martz). Only George Seifert's seven-season streak is better than O'Connell's. Minnesota won its final five games of the 2025 season, turning its 4-8 mark entering Week 14 into a 9-8 record. He guided three different quarterbacks through multiple starts during the season [22-year-old J.J. McCarthy (10 starts), veteran Carson Wentz (five) and undrafted rookie Max Brosmer (two)]. Meanwhile, WR Justin Jefferson became the third player in NFL history to reach the 1,000-yard mark in each of his first six seasons (Randy Moss, Mike Evans) and joined Cris Carter (eight seasons) and Moss (six) as the only Vikings with at least six 1,000-yard seasons in their careers. Defensively, the Vikings ranked third in the NFL in 2025 allowing just 282.6 yards per game, including just 158.5 passing yards per game, the second fewest in the NFL behind Buffalo (156.9). It also marked the team's fewest passing yards allowed per game by the club since 1989 (156.3). On special teams, LS Andrew DePaola and K Will Reichard were named to The Associated Press All-Pro Teams, as Reichard was voted First-Team All-Pro while DePaola was tabbed to the Second Team. It marked the first time in Vikings history two specialists were named to AP All-Pro Teams in the same season and was the ninth and 10th All-Pro nods under O'Connell. Prior to joining the Vikings in 2022, O'Connell guided Rams QB Matthew Stafford and WR Cooper Kupp to career years in 2021. Kupp was named 2021 NFL Offensive Player of the Year by the Associated Press and Super Bowl LVI MVP. O'Connell worked in Washington, serving as the quarterbacks coach in 2017-18 and the offensive coordinator in 2019. He coached QB Kirk Cousins in 2017, helping him throw for more than 4,000 yards and 27 touchdowns, and record a career-high 342 rushing yards and a league-leading four game-winning drives. O'Connell worked on special projects with the San Francisco 49ers in 2016. He was also the quarterbacks coach in Cleveland during the 2015 season. Career record: 43-27.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Kellen Moore, Head Coach
Pro career: Named the 19th head coach in Saints history on Feb. 11, 2025. Moore joined the Saints after serving as the offensive coordinator for the Philadelphia Eagles in 2024. In his first season at the helm in New Orleans, Moore rallied the team from a 2-10 start to win four of the final five games. The Saints went 4-0 in the month of December, going undefeated in the month for the first time since 2011 and for only the third time in franchise history. Moore put his imprint on the team in year one on offense, mixing a combination of rookie QB Tyler Shough, protected by a pair of promising young tackles in Kelvin Banks Jr. and Taliese Fuaga and WR Chris Olave and TE Juwan Johnson. Including Shough and Banks, whose 1,066 snaps on offense was a club-high to earn PFWA All-Rookie, Moore and his staff successfully integrated a total of five rookies into the starting lineup and important rotational roles. Prior to coordinating the offense of the Super Bowl LIX champion Eagles offense in 2024, which ranked eighth overall in net yards per game (367.2), seventh in points per game (27.2) and second in rushing yards per game (179.3), Moore served in the same position with the Los Angeles Chargers in 2023 and the Dallas Cowboys from 2019-22. He started his coaching career as quarterbacks coach in Dallas in 2018. In four seasons as offensive coordinator of the Cowboys, Moore's unit ranked second in the NFL in total offense (391.0 net yards per game) and scoring (27.7 points per game). The Dallas offense was also the NFL's fourth-best passing offense (264.4 net yards per game) and ranked seventh in rushing offense (126.6 yards per game) over that span.

Background: Quarterback Boise State 2007-11. Pro quarterback Detroit Lions 2012-14, Dallas Cowboys 2015-17.

Personal: Born July 5, 1988, in Prosser, Washington. He and his wife, Julie, have two daughters, Halle and Madelyn, and two sons, Kyler and Beckham. His younger brother, Kirby is the head coach at Washington State.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

John Harbaugh, Head Coach

Pro Career: Harbaugh was named the head coach of the New York Giants on January 20, 2026. He spent the last 18 seasons (2008-2024) as the head coach of the Baltimore Ravens, where he compiled a record of 180-113 (.614). His 180 regular-season victories rank 14th in NFL history, while his 13 postseason wins are tied for seventh most all-time. Harbaugh has also led the Ravens to eight road playoff victories, the most in league history. With a combined 193 wins (regular season and playoffs), Harbaugh owns the 13th-most wins all-time. He guided four Ravens teams to the AFC Championship Game, including a 28-13 victory over the New England Patriots following the 2012 season that catapulted Baltimore to Super Bowl XLVII. Baltimore captured a 34-31 victory over the San Francisco 49ers in that game, marking the second World Championship in Ravens' franchise history. In 2019, Harbaugh was named the Associated Press NFL Coach of the Year after orchestrating the Ravens to a franchise-best 14-2 record and its first-ever No. 1 playoff seed. In his first season at the helm in Baltimore (2008), Harbaugh led the Ravens to an 11-5 mark and an AFC Championship Game appearance. That began a run of five consecutive playoff appearances from 2008 to 2012. He is the only head coach since 1970 to win a playoff game in each of his first five seasons. He began his NFL coaching career in 1998 as the special teams coordinator for the Philadelphia Eagles, a position he held until 2007, when he worked with the Eagles secondary.

Background: Played defensive back at Miami (Ohio) from 1980-83. No pro playing experience. College coach: Western Michigan (1984-96), Pittsburgh (1987), Morehead State (1988), Cincinnati (1989-96) and Indiana (1997). Pro coach: Philadelphia Eagles (1998-2007) and Baltimore Ravens (2008-25).

Personal: Born on Sept. 23, 1962, in Perrysburg, Ohio. Earned his bachelor's degree in political science. Obtained a master's in physical education from Western Michigan. He and his wife, Ingrid, have one daughter, Alison. John is the son of Jackie and Jack Harbaugh. His father, Jack, was a longtime college football coach. His brother, Jim, is the head coach of the Los Angeles Chargers. John's brother-in-law, Tom Crean, a longtime college basketball head coach, is married to the brothers' sister, Joani.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Kyle Shanahan, Head Coach
Pro Career: Kyle Shanahan became the 20th head coach in franchise history on February 6, 2017, after spending the prior two seasons as offensive coordinator of the Atlanta Falcons. Has 22 seasons of coaching experience at the NFL level, including nine seasons as an offensive coordinator for the Atlanta Falcons (2015-16), Cleveland Browns (2014), Washington Redskins (2010-13) and Houston Texans (2008-09). In six of his nine seasons as an offensive coordinator (2008-09, 2012-13 and 2015-16), and six as head coach of the 49ers (2019, 2021-25), Shanahan has directed an offense that ranked in the top 10 in the NFL in yards gained. In 2019, Shanahan led the 49ers to Super Bowl LIV in his third season with the team, winning Coach of the Year honors by Sporting News and NFC Coach of the Year by the Committee of 101. Shanahan has since guided the team to consecutive NFC West division titles (2022-23) and three-consecutive NFC Championship Game appearances (2021-23). In 2023, Shanahan led the 49ers to a 12-5 record, their eighth NFC Championship victory and an appearance in Super Bowl LVIII. He became the second head coach in NFL history to reach the Conference Championship Game in each of his first four playoff appearances as a head coach. Career record: 82-67.

Background: Wide receiver at Duke 1998-99, Texas 2001-02. Coached at UCLA (2003), Tampa Bay Buccaneers (2004-05), Houston Texans (2006-09), Washington Redskins (2010-13), Cleveland Browns (2014), Atlanta Falcons (2015-16).

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

Mike Macdonald, Head Coach
Pro Career: The Seattle Seahawks named Mike Macdonald the ninth head coach in franchise history on Jan. 31, 2024. In 2025, Macdonald led Seattle to a franchise-record 14 regular-season wins, secured the No. 1 seed in the NFC, and captured the second Super Bowl title in franchise history with a 29–13 victory over the New England Patriots in Super Bowl LX. Macdonald became the third-youngest head coach to win a Super Bowl and the ninth first-time head coach to win a championship within his first two seasons. The Seahawks had the league's top scoring defense (17.2 ppg), and ranked in the top-five in several key categories: point differential (1st, franchise-record +191), rush yards per attempt (1st, 3.7), yards per play (2nd, 4.6), rush touchdowns allowed (2nd, nine), rush yards per game (3rd, 91.9), and interceptions (5th, 18). Pro coaching background: Baltimore Ravens (coaching intern 2014, defensive assistant 2015-16, defensive backs 2017, linebackers 2018-20, defensive coordinator 2022-23).

Background: While attending Georgia, Macdonald began his coaching career at Cedar Shoals High School, coaching the linebackers and running backs under head coach Xarvia Smith, for whom he played at Centennial High School in Roswell, Ga. No pro playing experience. College coach: University of Georgia 2010-13, Michigan 2021, where Macdonald's unit posted the nation's No. 8 scoring defense (17.4 ppg).

Personal: Macdonald was a two-sport (football and baseball) athlete at Centennial High, and he and his wife, Stephanie, have one son, Jack.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Todd Bowles, Head Coach

Pro Career: Todd Bowles enters his fifth season as head coach of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers following his three seasons as the team's defensive coordinator from 2019-21. Through four seasons as head coach, Bowles has amassed 35 regular season wins, which are the fourth-most in franchise history trailing only Buccaneers Ring of Honor members Jon Gruden (57), Tony Dungy (54) and John McKay (44). Bowles became the first coach in franchise history to begin his stint with three consecutive playoff appearances and three consecutive division titles when he did so from 2022-24. His three division titles are tied alongside Gruden as the most by a head coach in team history. Bowles also became just the seventh head coach in the Super Bowl era to win their division each of their first three seasons leading a team. In 2025, Bowles coached the Buccaneers to an 8-9 record and a second-place finish in the NFC South division, falling on the short end of a tiebreaker that would've secured the Buccaneers their fourth consecutive division title. Bowles coached players from both sides of the ball to Pro Bowl selections in Antoine Winfield Jr. and Tristan Wirfs, as well as guiding a pair of 2025 PFWA All-Rookie Team selections in wide receiver Emeka Egbuka and cornerback Jacob Parrish. In 2024, working with his third offensive coordinator in as many seasons, Bowles guided Tampa Bay to a 10-7 record and boasted a top-10 point differential (+117) and yardage differential per game (+57.8). Bowles led a Buccaneers team that featured one of the league's most prolific offenses, establishing franchise records in completion percentage (71.5%), passer rating (106.8), rushing yards (2,536), yards per rush (5.3) and third-down conversion rate (50.9%), while becoming the first team in NFL history to complete at least 70% of their passes and average at least five yards per carry in the same season. During the final seven weeks of the 2024 season, Bowles' defense held opponents to 237.9 yards per game and yielded just 26 combined second-half points, helping produce a 6-1 finish and catapulting the Buccaneers to their third straight division title. In 2023, Bowles guided the NFL's eighth-youngest roster to an appearance in the NFC Divisional round, earning his first career playoff win as a head coach in a commanding 32-9 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles in the Super Wild Card Round. He inspired a 5-1 finish in the final six weeks of the regular season to secure Tampa Bay's spot in the playoffs. The defense as a whole finished top five in run defense for the fourth time in five seasons under Bowles and ranked seventh in scoring defense, limiting opponents to just 19.1 points per game in 2023. In 2022, Bowles led the Buccaneers to the NFC South title in his first year as the head coach in Tampa Bay, joining Jon Gruden as the only coaches in franchise history to accomplish that feat in year one. He was the play caller for a defense that finished top 10 in the NFL in total yards per game (324.3 opponent yards/game), yards per play (5.14 avg.), pass defense (203.5 passing yards allowed/game), net yards per attempt (6.1), sacks (45.0) and tackles for loss (89), while limiting opponents to the fifth-fewest first downs per game (18.5) and the sixth-lowest third down conversion percentage (36.9 percent). Prior to being named head coach, Bowles spent three seasons as defensive coordinator (2019-21) and transformed the unit into one of the NFL's most productive, opportunistic defenses. Since Bowles joined the Buccaneers in 2019, Tampa Bay's defense has set the standard for rush defense, leading the league in both fewest rushing yards per game allowed (94.5) and fewest rush yards per attempt allowed (4.0), while limiting opponents to the third-fewest rushing touchdowns (tied, 84). He has led an opportunistic defense that ranks first in quarterback pressures (1,487), first in opponent fumble recoveries (77), first in strip sacks (50), second in quarterback hits (732), tied for second in forced fumbles (110), third in sacks (318), fourth in tackles for loss (603), fifth in takeaways (168) and tied for sixth in defensive touchdowns (14) in that span. The architect behind a historic defensive performance that catapulted the Buccaneers to a Super Bowl LV victory, Bowles and the Bucs held the explosive Kansas City offense to nine points and without a touchdown for the first time in 54 games with Patrick Mahomes as the starting quarterback. Bowles joined the Buccaneers after four seasons as head coach of the New York Jets (2015-18). Under Bowles, the Jets posted one of the best run defenses in the NFL, holding teams to just 4.0 yards per carry, the sixth- lowest figure in the NFL during that span, and allowed only 44 rushing touch- downs, tied for eighth-fewest in that time frame. Bowles' Jets defense also allowed opponents to convert only 36.0 percent of third downs, the fourth- lowest mark in the league. Opposing passers completed just 60.6 percent of their attempts against the Jets under Bowles, the third-lowest mark in the NFL. Nine New York players earned Pro Bowl berths: Darrelle Revis (2015), Muhammad Wilkerson (2015), Chris Ivory (2015), Brandon Marshall (2015), Nick Mangold (2015), Leonard Williams (2016), Jamal Adams (2018), Jason Myers (2018) and Andre Roberts (2018). Prior to serving as Jets head coach, Bowles spent two seasons as defensive coordinator of the Arizona Cardinals (2013-14), where he won Assistant Coach of the Year honors from the PFWA and AP in 2014. During Bowles' time in Arizona, the Cardinals defense allowed the third- fewest rushing touchdowns (14), fifth-fewest points per game (19.5) and fifth-fewest rushing yards per game (96.6). Bowles' defenses in Arizona also showed a knack for takeaways, recording the fifth- most interceptions (38) and most defensive touch- downs (nine) in the NFL. Bowles saw cornerback Patrick Peterson earn first-team AP All-Pro honors in 2013 and Pro Bowl honors both years (2013-14). Defensive end John Abraham (2013), cornerback Antonio Cromartie (2014) and defensive end Calais Campbell (2014) also earned Pro Bowl selections. Bowles spent one year with the Philadelphia Eagles (2012) as the team's secondary coach, before being named interim defensive coordinator for the final 10 games of the season. Before Philadelphia, Bowles was the Dolphins' assistant head coach/secondary coach for four seasons (2008-11). In 2011, he was named interim head coach for the final three games, going 2-1. Bowles also worked as Cowboys defensive backs coach from 2005-07, coaching three players to the Pro Bowl (safety Ken Hamlin, corner- back Terence Newman and safety Roy Williams). His NFL coaching career began in 2000 as the defensive backs coach of the New York Jets prior to four years with the Cleveland Browns, working as the team's nickel package coach (2001-03) and secondary coach (2004). Career record: 62-77.

Background: Bowles got his start as the defensive coordinator for Morehouse College in 1997, followed by a two-year stint as defensive coordinator at Grambling State (1998-99). He played collegiately at Temple, and despite going undrafted in 1986, played eight years in the NFL, with Washington (1986-90 and 1992-93) and San Francisco (1991), starting on the 1987 Washington team that won Super Bowl XXII. Following his retirement as a player, Bowles spent two seasons (1995-96) with the Green Bay Packers' player personnel department.

Personal: An Elizabeth, N.J., native, he and his wife, Taneka, have three sons, Todd Jr., Troy and Tyson.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

2026 COACHING STAFF

Dan Quinn, Head Coach

Pro Career: Became the 31st coach in Washington history on Feb. 3, 2024. Quinn joins the Commanders with 21 years of coaching experience, most recently serving as the defensive coordinator for the Dallas Cowboys from 2021-23. In 2021, he was named Assistant Coach of the Year by the Associated Press. From 2021-23, Quinn's unit ranked No. 5 in the NFL in points per game (19.9), No. 7 in net yards allowed per game (327.0), No. 6 in sacks (141) and No. 1 in in interceptions (59). Prior to his time in Dallas, Quinn spent six seasons (2015-20) as the head coach of the Atlanta Falcons where he led Atlanta to Super Bowl LI. He finished his career with the Falcons with a 43-42 regular-season record and a 3-2 postseason record. Before his time in Atlanta, Quinn served as the defensive coordinator for the Seattle Seahawks for two seasons (2013-14) and oversaw a defense that helped guide Seattle to consecutive Super Bowl appearances. The Seahawks defense ranked No. 1 in the NFL in fewest yards allowed (270.4), points allowed (15.2) and passing yards allowed (178.8), all while holding offenses to just 91.6 rushing yards per game during Quinn's tenure with the team. Before joining Seattle for his second stint, Quinn coached for the University of Florida (2011-12), the Seattle Seahawks (2009-10), New York Jets (2007-08), Miami Dolphins (2005-06), San Francisco 49ers (2001-04), Hofstra University (1996-2000), VMI (1995) and William & Mary (1994). Career record: 46-44.

Background: Quinn played defensive line at Salisbury for four seasons (1990-93) and was a four-year letterwinner and two-time co-captain. He also lettered in track and field and held the school record in the hammer throw until 2012. Quinn was inducted into the Salisbury Athletic Hall of Fame in 2005. No pro playing experience.

Personal: Born Sept. 11, 1970, in Morristown, N.J. In 20024, he and his wife, Stacey, started Quinn's Corps, which helps serve members of the military both at home and abroad.

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

30 games ended tied.

Note: The 98 games won with TD passes include the two won on fake FG attempts; the 61 games won with TD runs include the one won on fake FG attempt.

MODIFIED SUDDEN-DEATH OVERTIME

For the 2010 postseason, the NFL installed a modified sudden-death system to determine the winner when the score is tied at the end of regulation. In 2012, the system was expanded to cover all NFL games, including regular-season and preseason games. In 2021, the NFL eliminated overtime in preseason games. In 2022, the system was expanded for postseason games only to allow each team the opportunity to possess the ball. In 2025, NFL clubs approved a rule that aligns the postseason and regular season overtime rules by granting both teams an opportunity to possess the ball even if the first team scores a touchdown, subject to a 10-minute overtime period in the regular season. The first possession can end with a winner if the defense scores a touchdown or makes a tackle in the end zone for a safety.

Key Definitions
Possession: Actual possession of the ball with complete control. The defense gains possession when it catches, intercepts, or recovers a loose ball.

Opportunity to possess: The opportunity to possess occurs only during kicking plays. A kickoff is an opportunity to possess for the receiving team. If the kicking team legally recovers the kick, the receiving team is considered to have had its opportunity. A punt or a field goal that crosses the line of scrimmage and is muffed by the receiving team is considered to be an opportunity to possess for the receivers. Normal touching rules by the kicking team apply.

REGULAR-SEASON PROCEDURES
At the end of regulation time, the referee will immediately toss a coin at the center of the field in accordance with rules pertaining to the usual pregame toss. The captain of the visiting team will call the toss prior to the coin being flipped.

Following a three-minute intermission after the end of the regulation game, there shall be a maximum of one 10-minute period. Each team must possess or have the opportunity to possess the ball. The exception: if the team kicking off to start the overtime period scores a safety on the receiving team's initial possession, in which case the team that kicked off is the winner. If the team that possesses the ball first does not score on its initial possession, or if the score is tied after each team has had its opportunity to possess the ball, the team that scores next, by any method, is the winner. Each team shall be entitled to two timeouts, and if there is an excess timeout, the usual rules shall apply. Disqualified players are not allowed to return.

If the score is tied at the end of a 10-minute overtime period, the game shall result in a tie.

Instant Replay: No team challenges. Reviews to be initiated only by the replay official.

POSTSEASON PROCEDURES
In postseason, all games tied at the end of regulation are essentially new four-quarter contests unless a winner is determined. Following a three-minute intermission after the end of regulation, play will continue in 15-minute periods until a winner is declared, regardless of how many periods are necessary.

At the end of regulation, the referee will immediately toss a coin at the center of the field in accordance with rules pertaining to the usual pregame toss. The captain of the visiting team will call the toss prior to the coin being flipped.

Both teams must have the opportunity to possess the ball at least once during the extra period, unless the team kicking off to start the first overtime period scores a safety on the receiving team's initial possession. If the kicking team starts the first overtime period with a safety on the receiving team's initial possession, the team that kicked off is the winner. If the team that possesses the ball first does not score on its initial possession, or if the score is tied after each team has had its opportunity to possess the ball, the team scoring next by any method shall be the winner.

If the score is tied at the end of the first 15-minute overtime period, or if the second team's initial possession has not ended, another 15-minute overtime period will begin. Play will continue as it would between the first and second quarters of regulation after the teams change directions.

Every second and fourth overtime period (quarter) will include a clock stoppage for the two-minute warning. If tied after two periods, a possession will end. In that case, the team that lost the overtime coin toss will have the option to kick or receive for the start of the third overtime period (quarter).

If the game remains tied after the second overtime period, there will not be an extended "halftime." Play will continue with a kickoff to begin the third overtime period following a short television break.

Each team has three timeouts per half (defined as two 15-minute overtime quarters) and all general timing provisions apply as during a regular game. Disqualified players are not allowed to return.

Instant Replay: No team challenges. Reviews to be initiated only by the replay official.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS

The NFL rates its passers for statistical purposes against a fixed performance standard based on statistical achievements of all qualified pro passers since 1960. The current system replaced one that rated passers in relation to their position in a total group based on various criteria. The current system, which was adopted in 1973, removes inequities that existed in the former method and, at the same time, provides a means of comparing passing performances from one season to the next.

It is important to remember that the system is used to rate passers, not quarterbacks. Statistics do not reflect leadership, play-calling, and other intangible factors that go into making a successful professional quarterback. Four categories are used as a basis for compiling a rating:

—Percentage of completions per attempt —Average yards gained per attempt —Percentage of touchdown passes per attempt —Percentage of interceptions per attempt

The average standard is 1.000. The bottom is .000. To earn a 2.000 rating, a passer must perform at exceptional levels, i.e., 70 percent in completions, 10 percent in touchdowns, 1.5 percent in interceptions, and 11 yards average gain per pass attempt. The maximum a passer can receive in any category is 2.375.

For example, to gain a 2.375 in completion percentage, a passer would have to complete 77.5 percent of his passes. The NFL record is 74.44 by Drew Brees (New Orleans, 2018). To earn a 2.375 in percentage of touchdowns, a passer would have to achieve a percentage of 11.9. The record is 13.9 by Sid Luckman (Chicago, 1943). To gain 2.375 in percentage of interceptions, a passer would have to go the entire season without an interception. The 2.375 figure in average yards is 12.50, compared with the NFL record of 11.17 by Tommy O'Connell (Cleveland, 1957).

In order to make the rating more understandable, the point rating is then converted into a scale of 100, with 158.3 being the highest rating a passer can achieve. In cases where statistical performance has been superior, it is possible for a passer to surpass a 100 rating. For example, take Aaron Rodgers' record-setting season in 2011 when he completed 343 of 502 passes for 4,643 yards, 45 touchdowns, and six interceptions. The four calculations would be:

—Percentage of Completions—343 of 502 is 68.33 percent. Subtract 30 from the completion percentage (38.33) and multiply the result by 0.05. The result is a point rating of 1.916.
Note: If the result is less than zero (Comp. Pct. less than 30.0), award zero points. If the results are greater than 2.375 (Comp. Pct. greater than 77.5), award 2.375.

—Average Yards Gained Per Attempt—4,643 yards divided by 502 attempts is 9.25. Subtract 3 yards from yards-per-attempt (6.25) and multiply the result by 0.25. The result is 1.562.
Note: If the result is less than zero (yards per attempt less than 3.0), award zero points. If the result is greater than 2.375 (yards per attempt greater than 12.5), award 2.375 points.

—Percentage of Touchdown Passes—45 touchdowns in 502 attempts is 8.96 percent. Multiply the touchdown percentage by 0.2. The result is 1.793.
Note: If the result is greater than 2.375 (touchdown percentage greater than 11.875), award 2.375.

—Percentage of Interceptions—Six interceptions in 502 attempts is 1.20 percent. Multiply the interception percentage by 0.25 (0.299) and subtract the number from 2.375. The result is 2.076.
Note: If the result is less than zero (interception percentage greater than 9.5), award zero points.

The sum of the four steps is (1.916 + 1.562 + 1.793 + 2.076) 7.348. The sum is then divided by six (1.225) and multiplied by 100. In this case, the result is 122.5. This same formula can be used to determine a passer rating for any player who attempts at least one pass.

PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

From its humble beginnings in 1963 to today, the Pro Football Hall of Fame has grown in both size and stature. Recognized worldwide as America's premier sports Hall of Fame, it is doubtful that even the most optimistic of those who led the drive to bring the Hall of Fame to Canton, Ohio, could have envisioned the successes it would realize.

An exhilarating museum and attraction, the Hall of Fame pays tribute to the talents and triumphs of pro football's greatest stars. Chronicled within the walls of the Hall of Fame are the stories and circumstances of play that bring to life words such as courage, dedication, vision, fair play, integrity and excellence.

The Pro Football Hall of Fame has welcomed over 10 million fans. Each year, visitors travel from each of the 50 states in the United States and from upward of 70 foreign countries to tour the museum.

Today, the Hall of Fame reaches tens of millions of additional football fans each year through broad outreach such as national televised events, an in-depth website, educational and youth programs, social media, traveling exhibits and special events held around the country.

The Pro Football Hall of Fame works collaboratively with the pro football family: the National Football League, the 32 NFL clubs and other entinties. The cooperative efforts of all of these organizations have contributed greatly to the overall success of the Pro Football Hall of Fame. In turn, the Hall strives to serve as the best possible historical showplace and repository for the sport of pro football.

The Hall of Fame is a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit educational institution guided by its Mission to "Honor the Greatest of the Game, Preserve its History, Promote its Values & Celebrate Excellence Together."

A 50-person Selection Com¬mittee composed of media representatives and Hall of Famers, elects new members to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. The nearly year-round selection process culminates with the election of no fewer than four or no more than eight new members each year. An affirmative vote of 80 percent is needed for election.

The charter class of 17 enshrinees was elected in 1963, and the honor roll now stands at 387 (186 living as of May 20, 2026) with the election of a five-person class in 2026.

Rutgers and Princeton played a college soccer football game, the first ever, Nov. 6. The game used modified London Football Association rules. During the next seven years, rugby gained favor with the major eastern schools over soccer, and modern football began to develop from rugby.

1876
At the Massasoit convention, the first rules for American football were written. Walter Camp, who would become known as the father of American football, first became involved with the game.

1892
In an era in which football was a major attraction of local athletic clubs, an intense competition between two Pittsburgh-area clubs, the Allegheny Athletic Association (AAA) and the Pittsburgh Athletic Club (PAC), led to the making of the first professional football player. Former Yale All-America guard William (Pudge) Heffelfinger was paid $500 by the AAA to play in a game against the PAC, becoming the first person to be paid to play football, Nov. 12. The AAA won the game 4-0 when Heffelfinger picked up a PAC fumble and ran 35 yards for a touchdown.

1893
The Pittsburgh Athletic Club signed one of its players, probably halfback Grant Dibert, to the first known pro football contract, which covered all of the PAC's games for the year.

1895
John Brallier became the first football player to openly turn pro, accepting $10 and expenses to play for the Latrobe YMCA against the Jeannette Athletic Club.

1896
The Allegheny Athletic Association team fielded the first completely professional team for its abbreviated two-game season.

1897
The Latrobe Athletic Association football team went entirely professional, becoming the first team to play a full season with only professionals.

1898
- A touchdown was changed from four points to five.
- Chris O'Brien formed a neighborhood team, which played under the name the Morgan Athletic Club, on the south side of Chicago. The team later became known as the Normals, then the Racine (for a street in Chicago) Cardinals, the Chicago Cardinals, the St. Louis Cardinals, the Phoenix Cardinals, and, in 1994, the Arizona Cardinals. The team remains the oldest continuing operation in pro football.

1900
William C. Temple took over the team payments for the Duquesne Country and Athletic Club, becoming the first known individual club owner.

1902
- Baseball's Philadelphia Athletics, managed by Connie Mack, and the Philadelphia Phillies formed professional football teams, joining the Pittsburgh Stars in the first attempt at a pro football league, named the National Football League. The Athletics won the first night football game ever played, 39-0 over Kanaweola AC at Elmira, New York, Nov. 21.
- All three teams claimed the pro championship for the year, but the league president, Dave Berry, named the Stars the champions. Pitcher Rube Waddell was with the Athletics, and pitcher Christy Mathewson a fullback for Pittsburgh.
- The first World Series of pro football, actually a five-team tournament, was played among a team made up of players from both the Athletics and the Phillies, but simply named New York; the New York Knickerbockers; the Syracuse AC; the Warlow AC; and the Orange (New Jersey) AC at New York's original Madison Square Garden. New York and Syracuse played the first indoor football game before 3,000, Dec. 28. Syracuse, with Glen (Pop) Warner at guard, won 6-0 and went on to win the tournament.

- The Franklin (Pa.) Athletic Club won the second and last World Series of pro football over the Oreos AC of Asbury Park, New Jersey; the Watertown Red and Blacks; and the Orange AC.
- Pro football was popularized in Ohio when the Massillon Tigers, a strong amateur team, hired four Pittsburgh pros to play in the season-ending game against Akron. At the same time, pro football declined in the Pittsburgh area, and the emphasis on the pro game moved west from Pennsylvania to Ohio.

- A field goal was changed from five points to four.
- Ohio had at least seven pro teams, with Massillon winning the Ohio Independent Championship, that is, the pro title. Talk surfaced about forming a state-wide league to end spiraling salaries brought about by constant bidding for players and to write universal rules for the game. The feeble attempt to start the league failed.
- Halfback Charles Follis signed a contract with the Shelby (Ohio) AC, making him the first known black pro football player.

The Canton AC, later to become known as the Bulldogs, became a professional team. Massillon again won the Ohio League championship.

1906
- The forward pass was legalized. The first authenticated pass completion in a pro game came on Oct. 25, when George (Peggy) Parratt of Massillon threw a completion to Dan (Bullet) Riley in a victory over a combined Benwood-Moundsville team.
- Arch-rivals Canton and Massillon, the two best pro teams in America, played twice, with Canton winning the first game but Massillon winning the second and the Ohio League championship. A betting scandal and the financial disaster wrought upon the two clubs by paying huge salaries caused a temporary decline in interest in pro football in the two cities and, somewhat, throughout Ohio.

A field goal dropped from four points to three.

1912
- A touchdown was increased from five points to six.
- Jack Cusack revived a strong pro team in Canton.

1913
Jim Thorpe, a former football and track star at the Carlisle Indian School (Pa.) and a double gold medal winner at the 1912 Olympics in Stockholm, played for the Pine Village Pros in Indiana.

1915
Massillon again fielded a major team, reviving the old rivalry with Canton. Cusack signed Thorpe to play for Canton for $250 a game.

1916
With Thorpe and former Carlisle teammate Pete Calac starring, Canton went 9-0-1, won the Ohio League championship, and was acclaimed the pro football champion.

1917
Despite an upset by Massillon, Canton again won the Ohio League championship.

1919
- Canton again won the Ohio League championship, despite the team having been turned over from Cusack to Ralph Hay. Thorpe and Calac were joined in the backfield by Joe Guyon.
- Earl (Curly) Lambeau and newspaperman George Calhoun founded the Green Bay Packers on Aug. 11. The local Indian Packing Company sponsored the team for two years while it played an independent schedule.

1920
- Pro football was in a state of confusion due to three major problems: dramatically rising salaries; players continually jumping from one team to another following the highest offer; and the use of college players still enrolled in school. A league in which all the members would follow the same rules seemed the answer. An organizational meeting, at which the Akron Pros, Canton Bulldogs, Cleveland Indians, and Dayton Triangles were represented, was held at the Jordan and Hupmobile auto showroom in Canton, Ohio, Aug. 20. This meeting resulted in the formation of the American Professional Football Conference.
- A second organizational meeting was held in Canton, Sept. 17. The teams were from four states—Akron, Canton, Cleveland, and Dayton from Ohio; the Hammond Pros and Muncie Flyers from Indiana; the Rochester Jeffersons from New York; and the Rock Island Independents, Decatur Staleys, and Racine Cardinals from Illinois. The name of the league was changed to the American Professional Football Association. Hoping to capitalize on his fame, the members elected Thorpe president; Stanley Cofall of Cleveland was elected vice president. A membership fee of $100 per team was charged to give an appearance of respectability, but no team ever paid it. Scheduling was left up to the teams, and there were wide variations, both in the overall number of games played and in the number played against APFA member teams.

- Four other teams—the Buffalo All-Americans, Chicago Tigers, Columbus Panhandles, and Detroit Heralds—joined the league sometime during the year. On Sept. 26, the first game featuring an APFA team was played at Rock Island's Douglas Park. A crowd of 800 watched the Independents defeat the St. Paul Ideals 48-0. A week later, Oct. 3, the first game matching two APFA teams was held. At Triangle Park, Dayton defeated Columbus 14-0, with Lou Partlow of Dayton scoring the first touchdown in a game between Association teams. The same day, Rock Island defeated Muncie 45-0.
- By the beginning of December, most of the teams in the APFA had abandoned their hopes for a championship, and some of them, including the Chicago Tigers and the Detroit Heralds, had finished their seasons, disbanded, and had their franchises canceled by the Association. Four teams—Akron, Buffalo, Canton, and Decatur—still had championship aspirations, but a series of late-season games among them left Akron as the only undefeated team in the Association. At one of these games, Akron sold tackle Bob Nash to Buffalo for $300 and five percent of the gate receipts—the first APFA player deal.

- At the league meeting in Akron, April 30, the championship of the 1920 season was awarded to the Akron Pros. The APFA was reorganized, with Joe Carr of the Columbus Panhandles named president and Carl Storck of Dayton secretary-treasurer. Carr moved the Association's headquarters to Columbus, drafted a league constitution and by-laws, gave teams territorial rights, restricted player movements, developed membership criteria for the franchises, and issued standings for the first time, so that the APFA would have a clear champion.
- The Association's membership increased to 22 teams, including the Green Bay Packers who were awarded to J. Emmett Clair of the Acme Packing Co. on Aug. 27. The team cut ties with Acme Packing in October.
- Thorpe moved from Canton to the Cleveland Indians, but he was hurt early in the season and played very little.
- A.E. Staley turned the Decatur Staleys over to player-coach George Halas, who moved the team to Cubs Park in Chicago. Staley paid Halas $5,000 to keep the name Staleys for one more year. Halas made halfback Ed (Dutch) Sternaman his partner.
- Player-coach Fritz Pollard of the Akron Pros became the first black head coach.
- The Staleys claimed the APFA championship with a 9-1-1 record, as did Buffalo at 9-1-2. Carr ruled in favor of the Staleys, giving Halas his first championship.

1922

- After admitting the use of players who had college eligibility remaining, J. Emmett Clair withdrew from the APFA, Jan. 28. Six months later, the Packers were readmitted to the renamed NFL. The private Green Bay Football Club, with Curly Lambeau as president, suffered heavy financial losses and folded at the end of the season.
- The American Professional Football Association changed its name to the National Football League, June 24. The Chicago Staleys became the Chicago Bears.
- The NFL fielded 18 teams, including the new Oorang Indians of Marion, Ohio, an all-Indian team featuring Thorpe, Joe Guyon, and Pete Calac, and sponsored by the Oorang dog kennels.
- Canton, led by player-coach Guy Chamberlin and tackles Link Lyman and Wilbur (Pete) Henry, emerged as the league's first true powerhouse, going 10-0-2.

1923

- For the first time, all of the franchises considered to be part of the NFL fielded teams. Thorpe played his second and final season for the Oorang Indians. Against the Bears, Thorpe fumbled, and Halas picked up the ball and returned it 98 yards for a touchdown, a record that would last until 1972.
- Canton had its second consecutive undefeated season, going 11-0-1 for the NFL title.

1924

- The league had 18 franchises, including new ones in Kansas City, Kenosha, and Frankford, a section of Philadelphia. League champion Canton, successful on the field but not at the box office, was purchased by the owner of the Cleveland franchise, who kept the Canton franchise inactive, while using the best players for his Cleveland team, which he renamed the Bulldogs. Cleveland won the title with a 7-1-1 record.

- Five new franchises were admitted to the NFL—the New York Giants, who were awarded to Tim Mara and Billy Gibson for $500; the Detroit Panthers, featuring Jimmy Conzelman as owner, coach, and tailback; the Providence Steam Roller; a new Canton Bulldogs team; and the Pottsville Maroons, who had been perhaps the most successful independent pro team. The NFL established its first player limit, at 16 players.
- Late in the season, the NFL made its greatest coup in gaining national recognition. Shortly after the University of Illinois season ended in November, All-America halfback Harold (Red) Grange signed a contract to play with the Chicago Bears. On Thanksgiving Day, a crowd of 36,000—the largest in pro football history—watched Grange and the Bears play the Chicago Cardinals to a scoreless tie at Wrigley Field. At the beginning of December, the Bears left on a barnstorming tour that saw them play eight games in 12 days, in St. Louis, Philadelphia, New York City, Washington, Boston, Pittsburgh, Detroit, and Chicago. A crowd of 73,000 watched the game against the Giants at the Polo Grounds, helping assure the future of the troubled NFL franchise in New York. The Bears then played nine more games in the South and West, including a game in Los Angeles, in which 75,000 fans watched them defeat the Los Angeles Tigers in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.
- Pottsville and the Chicago Cardinals were the top contenders for the league title, with Pottsville winning a late-season meeting 21-7. Pottsville scheduled a game against a team of former Notre Dame players for Shibe Park in Philadelphia. Frankford lodged a protest not only because the game was in Frankford's protected territory, but because it was being played the same day as a Yellow Jackets home game. Carr gave three different notices forbidding Pottsville to play the game, but Pottsville played anyway, Dec. 12. That day, Carr fined the club, suspended it from all rights and privileges (including the right to play for the NFL championship), and re-turned its franchise to the league. The Cardinals, who ended the season with the best record in the league, were named the 1925 champions.

- Grange's manager, C.C. Pyle, told the Bears that Grange wouldn't play for them unless he was paid a five-figure salary and given one-third ownership of the team. The Bears refused. Pyle leased Yankee Stadium in New York City, then petitioned for an NFL franchise. After he was refused, he started the first American Football League. It lasted one season and included Grange's New York Yankees and eight other teams. The AFL champion Philadelphia Quakers played a December game against the New York Giants, seventh in the NFL, and the Giants won 31-0. At the end of the season, the AFL folded.
- Halas pushed through a rule that prohibited any team from signing a player whose college class had not graduated.
- The NFL grew to 22 teams, including the Duluth Eskimos, who signed All-America fullback Ernie Nevers of Stanford, giving the league a gate attraction to rival Grange. The 15-member Eskimos, dubbed the Iron Men of the North, played 29 exhibition and league games, 28 on the road, and Nevers played in all but 29 minutes of them.

▶ Frankford edged the Bears for the championship, despite Halas having obtained John (Paddy) Driscoll from the Cardinals. On Dec. 4, the Yellow Jackets scored in the final two minutes to defeat the Bears 7-6 and move ahead of them in the standings.

At a special meeting in Cleveland, April 23, Carr decided to secure the NFL's future by eliminating the financially weaker teams and consolidating the quality players onto a limited number of more successful teams. The new-look NFL dropped to 12 teams, and the center of gravity of the league left the Midwest, where the NFL had started, and began to emerge in the large cities of the East. One of the new teams was Grange's New York Yankees, but Grange suffered a knee injury and the Yankees finished in the middle of the pack. The NFL championship was won by the cross-town rival New York Giants, who posted 10 shutouts in 13 games.

1928

Grange and Nevers both retired from pro football, and Duluth disbanded, as the NFL was reduced to only 10 teams. The Providence Steam Roller of Jimmy Conzelman and Pearce Johnson won the championship, playing in the Cycledrome, a 10,000-seat oval that had been built for bicycle races.

1929

▶ Chris O'Brien sold the Chicago Cardinals to David Jones, July 27.

▶ The NFL added a fourth official, the field judge, July 28.

▶ Grange and Nevers returned to the NFL. Nevers scored six rushing touchdowns and four extra points as the Cardinals beat Grange's Bears 40-6, Nov. 28. The 40 points set a record that remains the NFL's oldest.

▶ Providence became the first NFL team to host a game at night under floodlights, against the Cardinals, Nov. 6.

▶ The Packers added back Johnny Blood (McNally), tackle Cal Hubbard, and guard Mike Michalske, and won their first NFL championship, edging the Giants, who featured quarterback Benny Friedman.

▶ Dayton, the last of the NFL's original franchises, was purchased by William B. Dwyer and John C. Depler, moved to Brooklyn, and renamed the Dodgers. The Portsmouth, Ohio, Spartans entered the league.

▶ The Packers edged the Giants for the title, but the most improved team was the Bears. Halas retired as a player and replaced himself as coach of the Bears with Ralph Jones, who refined the T-formation by introducing wide ends and a halfback in motion. Jones also introduced rookie All-America fullback-tackle Bronko Nagurski.

▶ The Giants defeated a team of former Notre Dame players coached by Knute Rockne 22-0 before 55,000 at the Polo Grounds, Dec. 14. The proceeds went to the New York Unemployment Fund to help those suffering because of the Great Depression, and the easy victory helped give the NFL credibility with the press and the public.

1931

▶ The NFL decreased to 10 teams, and halfway through the season the Frankford franchise folded. Carr fined the Bears, Packers, and Portsmouth $1,000 each for using players whose college classes had not graduated.

▶ The Packers won an unprecedented third consecutive title, beating out the Spartans, who were led by rookie backs Earl (Dutch) Clark and Glenn Presnell.

▶ George Preston Marshall, Vincent Bendix, Jay O'Brien, and M. Dorland Doyle were awarded a franchise for Boston, July 9. Despite the presence of two rookies—halfback Cliff Battles and tackle Glen (Turk) Edwards—the new team, named the Braves, lost money and Marshall was left as the sole owner at the end of the year.

▶ NFL membership dropped to eight teams, the lowest in history. Official statistics were kept for the first time. The Bears and the Spartans finished the season in the first-ever tie for first place. After the season finale, the league office arranged for an additional regular-season game to determine the league champion. The game was moved indoors to Chicago Stadium because of bitter cold and heavy snow. The arena allowed only an 80-yard field that came right to the walls. The goal posts were moved from the end lines to the goal lines and, for safety, inbounds lines or hashmarks where the ball would be put in play were drawn 10 yards from the walls that butted against the sidelines. The Bears won 9-0, Dec. 18, scoring the winning touchdown on a two-yard pass from Nagurski to Grange. The Spartans claimed Nagurski's pass was thrown from less than five yards behind the line of scrimmage, violating the existing passing rule, but the play stood.

▶ The NFL, which long had followed the rules of college football, made a number of significant changes from the college game for the first time and began to develop rules serving its needs and the style of play it preferred. The innovations from the 1932 championship game—inbounds line or hashmarks and goal posts on the goal lines—were adopted. Also the forward pass was legalized from anywhere behind the line of scrimmage, Feb. 25.

▶ Marshall and Halas pushed through a proposal that divided the NFL into two divisions, with the winners to meet in an annual championship game, July 8.

▶ Three new franchises joined the league—the Pittsburgh Pirates of Art Rooney, the Philadelphia Eagles of Bert Bell and Lud Wray, and the Cincinnati Reds. The Staten Island Stapletons suspended operations for a year, but never returned to the league.

▶ Halas bought out Sternaman, became sole owner of the Bears, and reinstated himself as head coach. Marshall changed the name of the Boston Braves to the Redskins. David Jones sold the Chicago Cardinals to Charles W. Bidwill.

▶ In the first NFL Championship Game scheduled before the season, the Western Division champion Bears defeated the Eastern Division champion Giants 23-21 at Wrigley Field, Dec. 17.

1934

▶ G.A. (Dick) Richards purchased the Portsmouth Spartans, moved them to Detroit, and renamed them the Lions.

▶ Professional football gained new prestige when the Bears were matched against the best college football players in the first Chicago College All-Star Game, Aug. 31. The game ended in a scoreless tie before 79,432 at Soldier Field.

▶ The Cincinnati Reds lost their first eight games, then were suspended from the league for defaulting on payments. The St. Louis Gunners, an independent team, joined the NFL by buying the Cincinnati franchise and went 1-2 the last three weeks.

▶ Rookie Beattie Feathers of the Bears became the NFL's first 1,000-yard rusher, gaining 1,004 on 101 carries. The Thanksgiving Day game between the Bears and the Lions became the first NFL game broadcast nationally, with Graham McNamee the announcer for NBC radio.

▶ In the championship game, on an extremely cold and icy day at the Polo Grounds, the Giants trailed the Bears 13-3 in the third quarter before changing to basketball shoes for better footing. The Giants won 30-13 in what has come to be known as the Sneakers Game, Dec. 9.

▶ The player waiver rule was adopted, Dec. 10.

▶ The NFL adopted Bert Bell's proposal to hold an annual draft of college players, to begin in 1936, with teams selecting in an inverse order of finish, May 19. The inbounds line or hashmarks were moved nearer the center of the field, 15 yards from the sidelines.

▶ All-America end Don Hutson of Alabama joined Green Bay. The Lions defeated the Giants 26-7 in the NFL Championship Game, Dec. 15.

▶ There were no franchise transactions for the first year since the formation of the NFL. It also was the first year in which all member teams played the same number of games.

▶ The Eagles made University of Chicago halfback and Heisman Trophy winner Jay Berwanger the first player ever selected in the NFL draft, Feb. 8. The Eagles traded his rights to the Bears, but Berwanger never played pro football. The first player selected to actually sign was the number-two pick, Riley Smith of Alabama, who was selected by Boston.

▶ A rival league was formed, and it became the second to call itself the American Football League. The Boston Shamrocks were its champions.

▶ Because of poor attendance, Marshall, the owner of the host team, moved the Championship Game from Boston to the Polo Grounds in New York. Green Bay defeated the Redskins 21-6, Dec. 13.

1937

▶ Homer Marshman was granted a Cleveland franchise, named the Rams, Feb. 12. Marshall moved the Redskins to Washington, D.C., Feb. 13. The Redskins signed TCU All-America tailback Sammy Baugh, who led them to a 28-21 victory over the Bears in the NFL Championship Game, Dec. 12.

▶ The Los Angeles Bulldogs had an 8-0 record to win the AFL title, but then the 2-year-old league folded.

1938

▶ At the suggestion of Halas, Hugh (Shorty) Ray became a technical advisor on rules and officiating to the NFL. A new rule called for a 15-yard penalty for roughing the passer.

▶ Rookie Byron (Whizzer) White of the Pittsburgh Pirates led the NFL in rushing. The Giants defeated the Packers 23-17 for the NFL title, Dec. 11.

▶ Marshall, Los Angeles Times sports editor Bill Henry, and promoter Tom Gallery established the Pro Bowl game between the NFL champion and a team of pro all-stars.

1939

▶ The New York Giants defeated the Pro All-Stars 13-10 in the first Pro Bowl, at Wrigley Field, Los Angeles, Jan. 15.

▶ Carr, NFL president since 1921, died in Columbus, May 20. Carl Storck was named acting president, May 25.

▶ An NFL game was televised for the first time when NBC broadcast the Brooklyn Dodgers-Philadelphia Eagles game from Ebbets Field to the approximately 1,000 sets then in New York, Oct. 22.

▶ Green Bay defeated New York 27-0 in the NFL Championship Game, Dec. 10 at Milwaukee. NFL attendance exceeded 1 million in a season for the first time, reaching 1,071,200.

▶ A six-team rival league, the third to call itself the American Football League, was formed, and the Columbus Bullies won its championship.

▶ Halas' Bears, with additional coaching by Clark Shaughnessy of Stanford, defeated the Redskins 73-0 in the NFL Championship Game, December 8. The game, which was the most decisive victory in NFL history, popularized the Bears' T-formation with a man-in-motion. It was the first championship carried on network radio, broadcast by Red Barber to 120 stations of the Mutual Broadcasting System, which paid $2,500 for the rights.

▶ Art Rooney sold the Pittsburgh franchise to Alexis Thompson, Dec. 9, then bought part interest in the Philadelphia Eagles.

▶ Bell and Rooney traded the Eagles to Thompson for the Pirates, then re-named their new team the Steelers.

1941

▶ Elmer Layden was named the first Commissioner of the NFL, March 1; Storck, the acting president, resigned, April 5. NFL headquarters were moved to Chicago.

▶ Homer Marshman sold the Rams to Daniel F. Reeves and Fred Levy, Jr.

▶ The league by-laws were revised to provide for playoffs in case there were ties in division races, and sudden-death overtimes in case a playoff game was tied after four quarters. An official NFL Record Manual was published for the first time.

▶ Columbus again won the championship of the AFL, but the two-year-old league then folded.

▶ The Bears and the Packers finished in a tie for the Western Division championship, setting up the first divisional playoff game in league history. The Bears won 33-14, then defeated the Giants 37-9 for the NFL championship, Dec. 21.

1942

Players departing for service in World War II depleted the rosters of NFL teams. Halas left the Bears in midseason to join the Navy, and Luke Johnsos and Heartley (Hunk) Anderson served as co-coaches as the Bears went 11-0 in the regular season. The Redskins defeated the Bears 14-6 in the NFL Championship Game, Dec. 13.

1943

▶ The Cleveland Rams, with co-owners Reeves and Levy in the service, were granted permission to suspend operations for one season, April 6. Levy transferred his stock in the team to Reeves, April 16.

▶ The NFL adopted free substitution, April 7. The league also made the wearing of helmets mandatory and approved a 10-game schedule for all teams.

▶ Philadelphia and Pittsburgh were granted permission to merge for one season, June 19. The team, known as Phil-Pitt (and called the Steagles by fans), divided home games between the two cities, and Earle (Greasy) Neale of Philadelphia and Walt Kiesling of Pittsburgh served as co-coaches. The merger automatically dissolved the last day of the season, Dec. 5.

▶ Ted Collins was granted a franchise for Boston, to become active in 1944.

▶ Sammy Baugh led the league in passing, punting, and interceptions. He led the Redskins to a tie with the Giants for the Eastern Division title, and then to a 28-0 victory in a divisional playoff game. The Bears beat the Redskins 41-21 in the NFL Championship Game, Dec. 26.

1944

▶ Collins, who had wanted a franchise in Yankee Stadium in New York, named his new team in Boston the Yanks. Cleveland resumed operations. The Brooklyn Dodgers changed their name to the Tigers.

▶ Coaching from the bench was legalized, April 20.

▶ The Cardinals and the Steelers were granted permission to merge for one year under the name Card-Pitt, April 21. Phil Handler of the Cardinals and Walt Kiesling of the Steelers served as co-coaches. The merger automatically dissolved the last day of the season, Dec. 3.

▶ In the NFL Championship Game, Green Bay defeated the New York Giants 14-7, Dec. 17.

▶ The inbounds lines or hashmarks were moved from 15 yards away from the sidelines to nearer the center of the field—20 yards from the sidelines.

▶ Brooklyn and Boston merged into a team that played home games in both cities and was known simply as The Yanks. The team was coached by former Boston head coach Herb Kopf. In December, the Brooklyn franchise withdrew from the NFL to join the new All-America Football Conference; all the players on its active and reserve lists were assigned to The Yanks, who once again became the Boston Yanks.

▶ Halas rejoined the Bears late in the season after service with the U.S. Navy. Although Halas took over much of the coaching duties, Anderson and Johnsos remained the coaches of record throughout the season.

▶ Steve Van Buren of Philadelphia led the NFL in rushing, kickoff returns, and scoring.

▶ After the Japanese surrendered ending World War II, a count showed that the NFL service roster, limited to men who had played in league games, totaled 638, 21 of whom had died in action.

▶ Rookie quarterback Bob Waterfield led Cleveland to a 15-14 victory over Washington in the NFL Championship Game, Dec. 16.

▶ The contract of Commissioner Layden was not renewed, and Bert Bell, co-owner of the Steelers, replaced him, Jan. 11. Bell moved the league headquarters from Chicago to the Philadelphia suburb of Bala-Cynwyd.

▶ Free substitution was withdrawn and substitutions were limited to no more than three men at a time. Forward passes were made automatically incomplete upon striking the goal posts, Jan. 11.

- The NFL took on a truly national appearance for the first time when Reeves was granted permission by the league to move his NFL champion Rams to Los Angeles.
- Halfback Kenny Washington (March 21) and end Woody Strode (May 7) signed with the Los Angeles Rams to become the first African-Americans to play in the NFL in the modern era. Guard Bill Willis (Aug. 6) and running back Marion Motley (Aug. 9) joined the AAFC with the Cleveland Browns.
- The rival All-America Football Conference began play with eight teams. The Cleveland Browns, coached by Paul Brown, won the AAFC's first championship, defeating the New York Yankees 14-9.
- Bill Dudley of the Steelers led the NFL in rushing, interceptions, and punt returns, and won the league's most valuable player award.
- Backs Frank Filchock and Merle Hapes of the Giants were questioned about an attempt by a New York man to fix the championship game with the Bears. Bell suspended Hapes but allowed Filchock to play; he played well, but Chicago won 24-14, Dec. 15.

- The NFL added a fifth official, the back judge.
- A bonus choice was made for the first time in the NFL draft. One team each year would select the special choice before the first round began. The Chicago Bears won a lottery and the rights to the first choice and drafted back Bob Fenimore of Oklahoma A&M.
- The Cleveland Browns again won the AAFC title, defeating the New York Yankees 14-3.
- Charles Bidwill, Sr., owner of the Cardinals, died April 19, but his wife and sons retained ownership of the team. On Dec. 28, the Cardinals won the NFL Championship Game 28-21 over the Philadelphia Eagles, who had beaten Pittsburgh 21-0 in a playoff.

1948

- Plastic helmets were prohibited. A flexible artificial tee was permitted at the kickoff. Officials other than the referee were equipped with whistles, not horns, Jan. 14.
- Fred Mandel sold the Detroit Lions to a syndicate headed by D. Lyle Fife, Jan. 15.
- Halfback Fred Gehrke of the Los Angeles Rams painted horns on the Rams' helmets, the first modern helmet emblems in pro football.
- The Cleveland Browns won their third straight AAFC championship, going 14-0 and then defeating the Buffalo Bills 49-7.
- In a blizzard, the Eagles defeated the Cardinals 7-0 in the NFL Championship Game, Dec. 19.

1949

- Alexis Thompson sold the champion Eagles to a syndicate headed by James P. Clark, Jan. 15. The Boston Yanks became the New York Bulldogs, sharing the Polo Grounds with the Giants.
- Free substitution was adopted for one year, Jan. 20.
- The NFL had two 1,000-yard rushers in the same season for the first time—Steve Van Buren of Philadelphia and Tony Canadeo of Green Bay.

- Sweeping rules changes were adopted to add action and tempo to games: one sudden-death overtime period was added for preseason and regular-season games; the goal posts were moved from the goal line to the end lines; kickoffs were moved from the 40- to the 35-yard line; after missed field goals from beyond the 20, the ball was to be returned to the line of scrimmage; restrictions were placed on members of the punting team to open up return possibilities; roll-blocking and cutting of wide receivers was eliminated; the extent of downfield contact a defender could have with an eligible receiver was restricted; the penalties for offensive holding, illegal use of the hands, and tripping were reduced from 15 to 10 yards; wide receivers blocking back toward the ball within three yards of the line of scrimmage were prevented from blocking below the waist, April 25.
- Seattle was awarded the twenty-eighth NFL franchise to begin play in 1976, June 4. Lloyd W. Nordstrom, president of the Seattle Seahawks, and Hugh Culverhouse, president of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, signed franchise agreements, Dec. 5.
- The Birmingham Americans defeated the Florida Blazers 22-21 in the WFL World Bowl league championship, Dec. 5.

1975
- Pittsburgh defeated Minnesota 16-6 in Super Bowl IX at New Orleans, the Steelers' first championship since entering the NFL in 1933, Jan. 12.
- The Memphis Southmen of the WFL signed Larry Csonka, Jim Kiick, and Paul Warfield of Miami, March 31.
- The divisional winners with the highest won-loss percentage were made the home team for the divisional playoffs, and the surviving winners with the highest percentage made home teams for the championship games. Previously, the home sites were pre-determined by division on a rotating basis, June 26.
- Referees were equipped with wireless microphones for all preseason, regular-season, and playoff games.
- The Lions moved to the new Pontiac Silverdome. The Giants played their home games in Shea Stadium. The Saints moved into the Louisiana Superdome.
- The World Football League folded, Oct. 22.

1976
- Pittsburgh defeated Dallas 21-17 in Super Bowl X in Miami. The Steelers joined Green Bay and Miami as the only teams to win two Super Bowls; the Cowboys became the first wild-card team to play in the Super Bowl, Jan. 18.
- Lloyd Nordstrom, the president of the Seahawks, died at 66, Jan. 20. His brother Elmer succeeded him as majority representative of the team.
- The owners adopted the use of two 30-second clocks for all games, visible to both players and fans to note the official time between the ready-for-play signal and snap of the ball, March 16.
- A veteran player allocation was held to stock the Seattle and Tampa Bay franchises with 39 players each, March 30-31. In the college draft, Seattle and Tampa Bay each received eight extra choices, April 8-9.
- The Giants moved into new Giants Stadium in East Rutherford, New Jersey.
- The Steelers defeated the College All-Stars in a storm-shortened Chicago College All-Star Game, the last of the series, July 23. St. Louis defeated San Diego 20-10 in a preseason game before 38,000 in Korakuen Stadium, Tokyo, in the first NFL game outside of North America, Aug. 16.

- Oakland defeated Minnesota 32-14 in Super Bowl XI at Pasadena, Jan. 9. The paid attendance was a pro record 103,438.
- The NFL Players Association and the NFL Management Council ratified a collective bargaining agreement extending until 1982, covering five football seasons while continuing the pension plan—including years 1974, 1975, and 1976—with contributions totaling more than $55 million. The total cost of the agreement was estimated at $107 million. The agreement called for a college draft at least through 1986; contained a no-strike, no-suit clause; established a 43-man active player limit; reduced pension vesting to four years; provided for increases in minimum salaries and preseason and postseason pay; improved insurance, medical, and dental benefits; modified previous practices in player movement and control; and reaffirmed the NFL Commissioner's disciplinary authority. Additionally, the agreement called for the NFL member clubs to make payments totaling $16 million the next 10 years to settle various legal disputes, Feb. 25.
- The San Francisco 49ers were sold to Edward J. DeBartolo, Jr., March 28.
- A 16-game regular season, four-game preseason was adopted to begin in 1978. A second wild-card team was adopted for the playoffs beginning in 1978, with the wild-card teams to play each other and the winners advancing to a round of eight postseason series, March 29.
- The Seahawks were permanently aligned in the AFC Western Division and the Buccaneers in the NFC Central Division, March 31.
- Rules changes were adopted to open up the passing game and to cut down on injuries. Defenders were permitted to make contact with eligible receivers only once; the head slap was outlawed; offensive linemen were prohibited from thrusting their hands to an opponent's neck, face, or head; and wide receivers were prohibited from clipping, even in the legal clipping zone.

▶ Rozelle negotiated contracts with the three television networks to televise all NFL regular-season and postseason games, plus selected preseason games, for four years beginning with the 1978 season. ABC was awarded yearly rights to 16 Monday night games, four prime-time games, the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl, and the Hall of Fame games. CBS received the rights to all NFC regular-season and postseason games (except those in the ABC package) and to Super Bowls XIV and XVI. NBC received the rights to all AFC regular-season and postseason games (except those in the ABC package) and to Super Bowls XIII and XV. Industry sources considered it the largest single television package ever negotiated, Oct. 12.

▶ Dallas defeated Denver 27-10 in Super Bowl XII, held indoors for the first time, at the Louisiana Superdome in New Orleans, Jan. 15. Dallas' victory was the first for the NFC in six years.

▶ According to a Louis Harris Sports Survey, 70 percent of the nation's sports fans said they followed football, compared to 54 percent who followed baseball. Football increased its lead as the country's favorite, 26 percent to 16 percent for baseball, Jan. 19.

▶ A seventh official, the side judge, was added to the officiating crew, March 14.

▶ The NFL continued a trend toward opening up the game. Rules changes permitted a defender to maintain contact with a receiver within five yards of the line of scrimmage, but restricted contact beyond that point. The pass-blocking rule was interpreted to permit the extending of arms and open hands, March 17.

▶ A study on the use of instant replay as an officiating aid was made during seven nationally televised preseason games.

▶ The NFL played for the first time in Mexico City, with the Saints defeating the Eagles 14-7 in a preseason game, Aug. 5.

▶ Bolstered by the expansion of the regular-season schedule from 14 to 16 weeks, NFL paid attendance exceeded 12 million (12,771,800) for the first time. The per-game average of 57,017 was the third-highest in league history and the most since 1973.

▶ Pittsburgh defeated Dallas 35-31 in Super Bowl XIII at Miami to become the first team ever to win three Super Bowls, Jan. 21.

▶ NFL rules changes emphasized additional player safety. The changes prohibited players on the receiving team from blocking below the waist during kickoffs, punts, and field-goal attempts; prohibited the wearing of torn or altered equipment and exposed pads that could be hazardous; extended the zone in which there could be no crackback blocks; and instructed officials to quickly whistle a play dead when a quarterback was clearly in the grasp of a tackler, March 16.

▶ Carroll Rosenbloom, the president of the Rams, drowned at 72, April 2. His widow, Georgia, assumed control of the club.

1980

▶ Pittsburgh defeated the Los Angeles Rams 31-19 in Super Bowl XIV at Pasadena to become the first team to win four Super Bowls, Jan. 20.

▶ The AFC-NFC Pro Bowl, won 37-27 by the NFC, was played before 48,060 fans at Aloha Stadium in Honolulu, Hawaii. It was the first time in the 30-year history of the Pro Bowl that the game was played in a non-NFL city.

▶ Rules changes placed greater restrictions on contact in the area of the head, neck, and face. Under the heading of "personal foul," players were prohibited from directly striking, swinging, or clubbing on the head, neck, or face. Starting in 1980, a penalty could be called for such contact whether or not the initial contact was made below the neck area.

▶ CBS, with a record bid of $12 million, won the national radio rights to 26 NFL regular-season games, including Monday Night Football, and all 10 postseason games for the 1980-83 seasons.

▶ The Los Angeles Rams moved their home games to Anaheim Stadium in nearby Orange County, California.

▶ The Oakland Raiders joined the Los Angeles Coliseum Commission's antitrust suit against the NFL. The suit contended the league violated antitrust laws in declining to approve a proposed move by the Raiders from Oakland to Los Angeles.

▶ The NFL Draft is televised for the first time by ESPN, April 29.

▶ Television ratings in 1980 were the second-best in NFL history, trailing only the combined ratings of the 1976 season. All three networks posted gains, and NBC's 15.0 rating was its best ever. CBS and ABC had their best ratings since 1977, with 15.3 and 20.8 ratings, respectively. CBS Radio reported a record audience of 7 million for Monday night and special games.

1981

▶ Oakland defeated Philadelphia 27-10 in Super Bowl XV at the Louisiana Superdome in New Orleans, to become the first wild-card team to win a Super Bowl, Jan. 25.

▶ Edgar F. Kaiser, Jr., purchased the Denver Broncos from Gerald and Allan Phipps, Feb. 26.

▶ The owners adopted a disaster plan for re-stocking a team should the club be involved in a fatal accident, March 20.

▶ A CBS-New York Times poll showed that 48 percent of sports fans preferred football to 31 percent for baseball.

▶ The NFL teams hosted 167 representatives from 44 predominantly black colleges during training camps for a total of 289 days. The program was adopted for renewal during each training camp period.

▶ ABC and CBS set all-time rating highs. ABC finished with a 21.7 rating and CBS with a 17.5 rating. NBC was down slightly to 13.9.

1982

▶ San Francisco defeated Cincinnati 26-21 in Super Bowl XVI at the Pontiac Silverdome, in the first Super Bowl held in the North, Jan. 24. The CBS telecast achieved the highest rating of any televised sports event ever, 49.1 with a 73.0 share.

▶ The NFL signed a five-year contract with the three television networks (ABC, CBS, and NBC) to televise all NFL regular-season and postseason games starting with the 1982 season.

▶ A jury ruled against the NFL in the antitrust trial brought by the Los Angeles Coliseum Commission and the Oakland Raiders, May 7. The verdict cleared the way for the Raiders to move to Los Angeles, where they defeated Green Bay 24-3 in their first preseason game, Aug. 29.

▶ The Vikings moved into the new Metrodome, Aug. 21.

▶ The 1982 season was reduced from a 16-game schedule to nine as the result of a 57-day players' strike. The strike was called by the NFLPA at midnight on Monday, Sept. 20, following the Green Bay at New York Giants game. Play resumed Nov. 21-22 following ratification of the Collective Bargaining Agreement by NFL owners, Nov. 17 in New York.

▶ Under the Collective Bargaining Agreement, which was to run through the 1986 season, the NFL draft was extended through 1992 and the veteran free-agent system was left basically unchanged. A minimum salary schedule for years of experience was established; training camp and postseason pay were increased; players' medical, insurance, and retirement benefits were increased; and a severance-pay system was introduced to aid in career transition, a first in professional sports.

▶ Despite the players' strike, the average paid attendance in 1982 was 58,472, the fifth-highest in league history.

1983

▶ Because of the shortened season, the NFL adopted a format of 16 teams competing in a Super Bowl Tournament for the 1982 playoffs. The NFC's number-one seed, Washington, defeated the AFC's number-two seed, Miami, 27-17 in Super Bowl XVII at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Jan. 30.

▶ Super Bowl XVII was the second-highest rated live television program of all time, giving the NFL a sweep of the top 10 live programs in television history.

▶ The NFL played for the first time in London, England, with the Vikings defeating the Cardinals 28-10 in a preseason game, Aug. 6.

▶ George Halas, the owner of the Bears and the last surviving member of the NFL's second organizational meeting, died at 88, Oct. 31.

- Norman Braman, in partnership with Edward Leibowitz, bought the Philadelphia Eagles from Leonard Tose, April 29.
- A group headed by Tom Benson, Jr., was approved to purchase the New Orleans Saints from John W. Mecom, Jr., June 3.
- The NFL owners adopted a resolution calling for a series of overseas preseason games, beginning in 1986, with one game to be played in England/Europe and/or one game in Japan each year. The game would be a fifth preseason game for the clubs involved and all arrangements and selection of the clubs would be under the control of the Commissioner, May 23.
- The league-wide conversion to videotape from movie film for coaching study was approved.
- A Louis Harris poll in December revealed that pro football remained the sport most followed by Americans. Fifty-nine percent of those surveyed followed pro football, compared with 54 percent who followed baseball.
- The Chicago-Miami Monday game had the highest rating, 29.6, and share, 46.0, of any primetime game in NFL history, Dec. 2. The game was viewed in more than 25 million homes.
- The NFL showed a ratings increase on all three networks for the season, gaining 4 percent on NBC, 10 on CBS, and 16 on ABC.

- Chicago defeated New England 46-10 in Super Bowl XX at the Louisiana Superdome, Jan. 26. The Patriots had earned the right to play the Bears by becoming the first wild-card team to win three consecutive games on the road. The NBC telecast replaced the final episode of M*A*S*H as the most-viewed television program in history, with an audience of 127 million viewers, according to A.C. Nielsen figures. In addition to drawing a 48.3 rating and a 70 percent share in the United States, Super Bowl XX was televised to 59 foreign countries and beamed via satellite to the QE II.
- The owners adopted limited use of instant replay as an officiating aid, prohibited players from wearing or otherwise displaying equipment, apparel, or other items that carry commercial names, names of organizations, or personal messages of any type, March 11.
- After an 11-week trial, a jury in U.S. District Court in New York awarded the United States Football League one dollar in its $1.7 billion antitrust suit against the NFL. The jury rejected all of the USFL's television-related claims, which were the self-proclaimed heart of the USFL's case. The jury deliberated five days, July 29.
- Chicago defeated Dallas 17-6 at Wembley Stadium in London in the first American Bowl. The game drew a sellout crowd of 82,699 and the NBC national telecast in this country produced a 12.4 rating and 36 percent share, making it the highest daytime preseason television audience ever with 10.65-million viewers, Aug. 3.

- New three-year TV contracts with ABC, CBS, and NBC were announced for 1987-89 at the NFL annual meeting in Maui, Hawaii, March 15. Commissioner Rozelle and Broadcast Committee Chairman Art Modell also announced a three-year contract with ESPN to televise 13 primetime games each season. The ESPN contract was the first with a cable network. However, NFL games on ESPN also were scheduled for regular television in the city of the visiting team and in the home city if the game was sold out 72 hours in advance.
- A special payment program was adopted to benefit nearly 1,000 former NFL players who participated in the League before the current Bert Bell NFL Pension Plan was created and made retroactive to the 1959 season. Players covered by the new program spent at least five years in the League and played all or part of their career prior to 1959. Each vested player would receive $60 per month for each year of service in the League for life.
- NFL and CBS Radio jointly announced agreement granting CBS the radio rights to a 40-game package in each of the next three NFL seasons, 1987-89, April 7.
- Over 400 former NFL players from the pre-1959 era received first payments from NFL owners, July 1.
- The NFL's debut on ESPN produced the two highest-rated and most-watched sports programs in basic cable history. The Chicago at Miami game on Aug. 16 drew an 8.9 rating in 3.81 million homes. Those records fell two weeks later when the Los Angeles Raiders at Dallas game achieved a 10.2 cable rating in 4.36 million homes.
- The 1987 season was reduced from a 16-game season to 15 as the result of a 24-day players' strike. The strike was called by the NFLPA on Tuesday, Sept. 22, following the New England at New York Jets game. Games scheduled for the third weekend were canceled but the games of weeks four, five, and six were played with replacement teams. Striking players returned for the seventh week of the season, Oct. 25.
- In a three-team deal involving 10 players and/or draft choices, the Los Angeles Rams traded running back Eric Dickerson to the Indianapolis Colts for six draft choices and two players.
